WHITEAWAY'S

ANY OVERT ACT WILL BRING THE UNITED STATES INTO THE WAR

Special to the "Telegraph"

WASHINGTON, MAY 28 (UP).—THE SCRIPPS-HOWARD COLUMNIST, MR WILLIAM SIMMS WRITES TO-DAY THAT "FOREIGN ENVOYS HERE HAVE WARNED THEIR GOVERNMENTS THAT THE UNITED STATES IS AWAITING ONLY AN OVERT ACT BY THE AXIS TO ENTER THE WAR." THAT IS THE INTERPRETATION ON THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS AND PROCLAMATION.

Ceaseless Action By The R. A. F. Enemy Aerodromes Smashed

CAIRO, May 28 (Reuter).—The bombing of Aleppo aerodrome in Syria and a successful series of raids on the enemy-occupied aerodrome at Malemi in Crete are the highlights of an official Middle East air communiqué.

BISMARCK LOSSES

Total 2,000 Men

ZURICH, May 28 (Reuter).—Nearly 2,000 men were lost in the sinking of the German battleship Bismarck, according to an estimate reported by the Berlin correspondent of the "Basler Nachrichten," who observes that crews on German ships are bigger than on British.

Reconnaissance

LONDON, May 28 (Reuter).—"It was a great hunt and we are eager and ready for more," states a message to the Admiralty from the Commander-in-Chief, Coastal Command, replying to a signal from the Admiralty gratefully acknowledging the part played by the Coastal Command in reconnaissance for the Bismarck.

The signal from the Admiralty states that this reconnaissance "contributed in a large measure to the successful outcome of the recent operation."

No Repeal Of Neutrality Legislation

WASHINGTON, May 28 (Reuter).—President Roosevelt has no intention of asking for a repeal of the Neutrality Act and is not considering its revision.

The President made this clear at a special press conference to-day to clarify certain outstanding questions following his "fireside chat."

The President added that he was not at present considering any executive orders to implement his proclamation of a state of "unlimited national emergency."

Wavell's Abyssinian Campaign Vindicated

LONDON, May 28 (Reuter).—General Sir Archibald Wavell's strategy in completing the conquest of the Italian East African empire when distractions were most further north was vindicated in the House of Lords to-day by Field Marshal Lord Birdwood and the Under-Secretary for War, Lord Croft.

Lord Birdwood, who is often called the "Father of the Indian Army," said that he had an uncomfortable feeling that not being done to the magnificent work of the officers and men from India, Dominions and the colonies in the East African campaign.

Lord Birdwood said that the majority of troops were from South Africa and India, and practically every African colony was represented.

It was certain that Hitler ordered his subordinate, the Duke of Aosta, to contain the British troops as long as possible in Abyssinia to use up their large supplies. A feature of the campaign, however, was the ex-

TURN to Back Page, Column 5

The fact that President Roosevelt acquainted Congressional leaders beforehand with what he intended to say made his pronouncements as coming as close to a war declaration as the President is able to go. The United States policy is described as a clear ultimatum which, in effect, is what the speech could be called, without great exaggeration.

Columnist Raymond Clapper stated, "America has changed overnight. Without action by Congress or any mention thereof, President Roosevelt assumed new powers. The President placed himself in a position to begin an undeclared war, or rather unannounced fighting against the Axis when his judgment calls for it. This is, in effect, an executive declaration that a state of war exists."

IF AXIS START SHOOTING U.S. "Task Forces" Will Reply

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

WASHINGTON, May 28 (UP).—Informed quarters to-day interpreted President Roosevelt's assurance that Britain would receive war goods as a signal for extended United States naval operations on the Atlantic, probably by "task forces," especially designed to meet the Axis threat.

They were of the opinion that these would probably be composed of battleships, aircraft-carriers, destroyers and submarines, and it was predicted that they would operate similar to the British squadrons which sought the Bismarck.

Some sources stated that the initiative for shooting in open sea warfare will be left to the Axis.

If the Axis decline to fight vastly superior forces, the goods will be delivered without shooting but, they observed, if an attack was made, then the United States would be unable to insure delivery of the goods without returning the fire.

LATEST

Almost Undeclared War

WASHINGTON, May 28 (UP).—President Roosevelt has led the nation near to the limits of an undeclared war if he is prepared to implement his unlimited emergency proclamation. A special press conference is scheduled for to-day in order to elaborate and explain the message.

The President said last night that strikes and lock-outs must cease abruptly in order to enlarge the scope of the Aid-to-Britain programme, and this supported by bristling threats to deliver war materials to the fighting men with armed force. The pledge went far beyond anything which the Administration considers an obsolescent. The speech aroused a national clamour of applause despite Representative Melvin Maas saying, "This means war." Senator Tom Connally declared that it was a "ringing call to duty and service for all Americans."

Senator Robert Taft asserted, "The declaration of an unlimited national emergency has no legal effect whatsoever. The President has no statutory or constitutional authority to declare such an emergency."

Very "Encouraging"

Senator Carter Glass, "I agreed with every word and more besides." Speaker Sam Rayburn of the House stated, "It will be very encouraging for the democratic peoples throughout the earth." Senator Walter George said, "It was a very strong statement of the Administration's basic philosophy."

Representative Hamilton Fish thought it was "just sop to the interventionists."

Senator Gerald Nye asserted, "The President gives notice that we are already conveying."

Senator Pat McCarran declared, "I think it is another way of declaring war."

Senator Robert Wagner was of the opinion that "President Roosevelt has firmly accepted and courageously exercised the great responsibility invested in him by the American people, in an unparalleled world crisis."

Senator Wheeler's Reactions

INDIANAPOLIS, May 28 (UP).—Senator Burton Wheeler, regarding President Roosevelt's fireside speech declared "It was a virtual declaration of war. The President talks about hard cold facts but no one in America has tried to create fear in the minds of the American people more than President Roosevelt since March, 1933. I do not know what the President means by declaring an emergency. What more powers can he take than what he already has, unless he has taken over labour, industry, communications and the press?"

Halifax & Keynes Go To White House

WASHINGTON, May 28 (Reuter).—President Roosevelt invited Lord Halifax, the British Ambassador, and Mr J. M. Keynes, the distinguished Cambridge economist, to the White House to-day, but the purpose of the engagement was not disclosed.

One Of The 1941 War Methods

Novel indeed are some of the methods and tactics adopted in the present war. Here is something the British army learnt from the invasion of the Lowlands. Picture shows Guardsmen, armed with Tommy Guns attacking an "enemy" post during manoeuvres "somewhere in England."

Crete Forces Locked Together In Great Slogging Match

CAIRO, May 28 (Reuter).—Authoritative military circles summed up the Crete battle to-night as follows:

"It is continuing to develop as an intensive stand-up slogging match. The fighting is hard, particularly in the area between Canea and Malemi."

Hell Fire Pass Abandoned

New Situation In North Africa

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

CAIRO, May 28 (UP).—The situation in North Africa has taken a new turn, and British General Headquarters to-day issued a communique which states that Hell Fire Pass, near Tobruk, has been temporarily abandoned by Imperial troops.

It was at Hell Fire Pass where Graziani's army made its last attempt to withstand the British offensive, but the strategic situation was secured after a few days of intensive fighting following a brilliant movement by the attacking forces.

The same communique announces that fighting continues on the Egyptian side of the Libyan-Egyptian frontier.

The enemy has taken Halfaya Pass. Operations extend for about 15 miles south from the sea.

The situation at Sollum is obscure.

Honours For African War Heroes

LONDON, May 28 (Reuter).—In recognition of the recent successful operations in East Africa, His Majesty the King has ordered the following promotions in and appointments of the Order of the Bath:

To Knight Commander—Lieut. General Alan Gordon Cunningham (brother of Admiral Sir Andrew Cunningham) and Major-General William Platt.

To Companions of the Order of the Bath—Major-General Alfred Reddo Godwin-Austen, Colonel Harry Edward de Robillard Wetherall and Brigadier-General George Edwin Brink, of the South African Staff Corps.

To Knight Commander of the British Empire—Major-General Lewis Macleod, of the Indian Army.

Norwegians Agree To Help Us

New Pact Signed

LONDON, May 28 (Reuter).—Determination to prosecute the war to a successful conclusion is affirmed in the Anglo-Norwegian Agreement concerning the organisation and employment of Norwegian armed forces in the United Kingdom signed to-day by the British and Norwegian Foreign Ministers.

The two governments have agreed that one of the objects of the war is the re-establishment of freedom and independence of Norway through its complete liberation from German domination.

They recognise the importance in their common interest of maintaining the armed forces of Norway and have agreed on principles on which these armed forces will be organised for co-operation with the Allied armed forces.

French Tanker Sunk

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"
LONDON, May 28 (UP).—An Admiralty communique states that a French tanker of about 5,000 tons which was en route to Tripoli escorted by an Italian warship was torpedoed and sunk. A liner of about 1,800 tons carrying about 3,000 troops to Libya was hit with two torpedoes and is considered to have been sunk.

Air Attacks On Cologne

Large Fires Started

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

LONDON, May 28 (UP).—It is authoritatively stated that industrial targets at Cologne were attacked last night.

"Bursts were seen on important objectives and several large fires were started." Smaller forces attacked the docks at Boulogne. Bomber planes made a "particularly successful raid" on the enemy aerodrome at Lunenburg, Brittany, yesterday afternoon and destroyed several aircraft on the ground.

Enemy Shipping Suffers: Convoy and Liner Sunk

LONDON, May 28 (Reuter).—Five armed trawlers were escorting a German supply ship of approximately 5,000 tons which was struck twice by heavy bombs dropped by an R.A.F. Coastal Command aircraft off Brest to-day.

The supply ship was left listing and settling down after the pilot of the British plane estimated that his second salvo "torpedoed" the ship below the water-line.

All the armed trawlers opened fire but the aircraft was hit only twice.

Steady Toll
LONDON, May 28 (Reuter).—The steady toll which the Royal Navy is taking of enemy troops and supplies bound for the Western Desert theatre of war is augmented by the sinking of an 18,000-ton liner and other vessels, announced to-day by Admiralty communique.

In addition to the destroyer referred to in the communique of May 23, this communique also stated that a troopship of about 9,000 tons, a 7,000-ton tanker and a very large ammunition schooner had been sunk, while a smaller schooner had been shelled and hit several times.

AMATEUR DRAMATICS

Successful Year for The Y.M.C.A. Club

The annual meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Amateur Dramatic Club was held yesterday with Mr. P. S. Cassidy in the chair, assisted by Mr. W. H. E. College, Secretary.

In a review of activities, Mr. Cassidy said the past 12 months had been a trying period and it spoke much for the keenness and steadfastness of members that, despite all difficulties, they had been able to produce three successful shows.

What was more gratifying was that each show had not only paid its way, but had enabled them to make generous contributions to war charities, including £80 to the Y.M.C.A. headquarters in England for the Mobile Canteen Fund.

Referring to the season's production, he considered "White Cargo" rather an unpleasant type of play, and perhaps the Secretary was right in calling it a "bold adventure."

Mr. Cassidy said "Twelfth Night" had exceeded his expectations and was not only remarkably well played but was also delightfully mounted.

Referring to "Mrs. Dot," he said it was really enjoyable entertainment and although balm for the tired business man, was also sufficiently intelligent to satisfy the really earnest play-goer.

The Treasurer's report revealed that the takings from "White Cargo" were $1,312.20, enabling $726.89 to be donated to the Bomber Fund. The profit on "Twelfth Night" was $235, the takings being $1,258.11, "Mrs. Dot" enabled £45 to be remitted to London, the takings having been $1,323.06.

The amount raised from these three performances was just over $2,000. The A.D.C. was the first of the Y.M.C.A. activities to raise funds for the parent body.

The suggestion that actors be provided with script a week before the final casting on the ground that would enable them to memorise their parts before the try-out was left to the in-coming Committee for consideration as was the suggestion that wigs be bought from Hollywood for Shakespearean plays.

Other suggestions left to the new Committee were that troops should be allowed to attend dress rehearsals, and that the Club might stage a fourth show this year, thinking more of dramatic value than of the financial side.

It was also suggested that in order to keep Shakespearean plays alive "The Merchant of Venice" should be staged at Christmas.

The following Committee was appointed—Mr. L. Starbuck (Convenor), Mrs. D. Lancaster, Mrs. W. Dalziel, Capt. E. Boney, Capt. C. E. Houghton, Mr. W. H. Ingleby, Mr. T. Ingram.

War Marriage Rush Slowing Down

The Registrar-General's latest returns suggest that the rush of war marriages in Britain is slowing down. There were 131,254 during the 13 weeks ended Sept. 30, a decrease of 21,678 on the corresponding quarter of 1939.

Civilian deaths totalled 108,860, compared with 103,127 in 1939 and live births 149,240, a decrease of 11,774.

The German Officer

To-day . . .

FOE WORTH BEATING

By MAJOR E. W. SHEPPARD

TO-DAY German officers are all over Europe, some in uniform, some disguised as technicians, tourists or advisers.

In the last war we all had a picture in our minds of the typical German officer—straight backed, stiff as a ramrod in his tight-fitting uniform and greatcoat, monocled, haughty, arrogant.

His mind was of a piece with his appearance. He knew his job, and little else besides.

He had a high sense of duty, a tremendous sense of caste and calling, and a queer code of honour to which he was utterly faithful.

That code enjoined on him a contempt for money and graft, a strict performance of duty, a meticulous knowledge of his profession and a ban on anything which might lower his own personal prestige as an officer, that of the German officer class, or that of the German Army.

More Human, But

I wonder if he is the same to-day? His outward appearance has, of course, changed. So I think to some extent has his mental outlook.

He is more human, more approachable, more among his men, more at ease with them. He has learnt that from the French.

He goes in more for sport and tries, not always with success, to cultivate in himself and his troops a sense of humour. He learnt that from us.

And he has learnt all about the new weapons of war—the tanks, the aeroplanes, the motorised arms, the parachutists.

He learnt that, too, from other people—much of it from the despised Russians.

New Weaknesses

I fancy, too, he has lost something of his strict sense of honour. He is the worse man for that, too, in my view.

But his sense of duty is as high as ever. He still firmly believes in himself, in the class to which he belongs, in the army of which he is the chief ornament.

And he still believes in Germany, too—though not necessarily in Nazism or in Hitler.

He is a formidable fellow, this German officer of to-day.

One may respect him, though hardly like him. He is a foe worth beating, and one whom it will take us a lot of trouble to beat.

But he can be beaten—and he will be, as he has been before.

And all the more certainly because he now has weaknesses foreign to his forefathers.

Iron Weather Man In the Pacific

By Thomas R. Henry

On an isolated, uninhabited island in the Mid-Pacific the U.S. Navy's first iron sentry soon will mount guard—perhaps as the forerunner of an army of robots with copper brains to form cordons around the poles and walk posts across the seas.

The iron sentry will report every six hours. This first private of the robot army is being built, according to navy's specifications, by a commercial firm.

The model after which he is being constructed has been on duty for a year at the naval air station at Anacostia, D.C. During this time he never has been caught napping, and has required little attention. Four times daily he has looked around, made his observations, and radioed his reports, which are received reliably at distances of at least 200 miles from Washington.

His reports consist of the barometric pressure, the air temperature, the humidity, the force and direction of the wind, and the amount of rainfall. Each of these is recorded accurately on the copper brain and transformed immediately into radio impulses.

The worse the weather the better he likes it. His life blood is the wind, which constantly recharges the storage batteries, through a windmill on his head, which keep his brain in operation.

The robot was constructed by Dr Harry Diamond and his associates at the U. S. Bureau of Standards in co-operation with navy officers. The things he does now are only an indication of what he may be able to do as he grows up in the service, navy officers say. One of the jobs already forecast for him is to drift about in the Atlantic, keeping ships, land stations and planes informed of the weather ahead.

The robot was first proposed by Dr Willis Gregg, late chief of the U. S. Weather Bureau, at a meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in Ottawa in 1938. At that time it was considered a futuristic dream.

Dr Gregg wanted these robots set up in a continuous sentry line around the Arctic Circle and over the interior of Greenland to keep the world informed of tempests striking southward from the North Pole.

The idea of robot weather observers, according to Dr Diamond, originated in Russia about 16 years ago. The Russian device was crude, but quickly became practical in the hands of the Bureau of Standards physicists.

The final result was the radiosent, sent aloft in a balloon to altitudes of nearly 30 miles to report by radio on conditions in the upper atmosphere, on which so much of the world's weather depends. These were all suicide flights at first. Now many of the radiosents are being recovered and put into service again.

The robot being put into service by the navy is a direct development from the radiosent. But whereas the former weighed less than a pound, this new iron brain weighs more than a ton, is built to operate indefinitely, and to withstand any sort of conditions.

In appearance the sentry of the storms will be a thoroughly unromantic fellow—merely a wooden box about eight feet square, with a windmill and some antennae on top. That is only the skin of the iron man.

CHIEFTAIN CATRIONA WINS 5-YEAR FIGHT

Twenty-one-year-old Miss Catriona Maclean of Ardour, daughter of the former chieftain of the Clan Maclean, has won her five-year fight for the right to use her father's arms.

Her right had been challenged by Lieut-Commander Henry Hugh Maclean, a cousin of the late Ardour twice removed, who claimed that as heir-male, he was head of the family of Ardour.

In the Lyon Court, the Lord Lyon King of Arms had disallowed his claim in favour of Catriona, and the Second Division of the Court of Session of Edinburgh recently affirmed that judgment.

Miss Catriona Maclean

The Lord Justice Clerk pointed out that the commander did not possess a rood of ancestral land, and said the idea that a woman could not represent a heraldic bearing family appeared to him to be a mediaeval notion, appropriate perhaps to the ages of savagery, but having no relation to the realities of the modern world.

FLEET AIR ARM PROVES STRENGTH AGAIN IN SINKING OF BISMARCK

These official Admiralty pictures show how the Fleet Air Arm operates from an aircraft carrier. Here a plane has just come up through the well and is having its wings spread.

Details of the sinking of the giant Nazi battleship, Bismarck, as issued by the Admiralty and published in the "Telegraph" yesterday, have thrilled all Hongkong just as the news has excited the imagination of people all over the world.

The communique makes mention of the big part which aircraft of the Fleet Air Arm played in running down and shattering the enemy battleship. In the determined pursuit of the Bismarck by British naval forces seeking to avenge the chance sinking of H.M.S. Hood, the first blows were struck by naval torpedo aircraft from the aircraft carrier, Victorious. Subsequently, torpedo aircraft from the Ark Royal also attacked the Bismarck by the same means.

These successful attacks caused damage to the Nazi battleship and slowed it down, paving the way for its eventual dispatch to the depths by the surface battle fleet.

The Fleet Air Arm has by this latest exploit proved once again its strength and the effectiveness of aerial torpedo attack. The first big success secured by use of this method of warfare was at Taranto, when Mussolini's much-vaunted battle fleet was cut to pieces.

The development of flying for war purposes originated in the British Navy. Its earliest pioneers, who included Admiral Sir Cecil Talbot, now Director of Dockyards, and Sir Archibald Cochrane, until recently Governor of Burma, were submarine officers who understood the effectiveness of the torpedo as a weapon. During the past few years, and especially since the outbreak of the present war, this branch of the fighting services has been brought to a high pitch of efficiency.

The Fleet Air Arm is served by many types of aircraft, including dive-bombers and fighters, but the torpedo plane remains the speciality. One of the most striking features of the striking power of this method of warfare is that it is designed with a single eye to hitting the target with precision. Should the torpedoes, or the dive-bombers' bombs, miss their mark, civilians do not suffer, as British and other European civilian populations suffer so cruelly at the hands of German pilots. The Navy, true to its tradition, strikes fiercely at its enemy's armed forces, but spares non-combatants.—A. C. G.

These are Blackburn Skua dive-bombers assembled on the deck of the carrier. They are ready to take off to attack the enemy.

4 NAVY CHIEFS

ERICH RAEDER, Commander-in-Chief of the Nazi Navy. His rank, Grand Admiral; his age, sixty-four; his reputation, shrewd, capable sailor, a martinet in discipline.

Raeder

As a young officer of the old Imperial Navy he was navigator of the Kaiser's yacht; during the last war he was Chief of Staff to Admiral Hipper, Commander-in-Chief of the German battle-cruisers.

He knows what it is to be at the receiving end of the Royal Navy's merciless artillery. He was in the Lutzow at Jutland when she was pounded by the gunfire of our big ships, but Raeder escaped.

His chief amusements are listening to music—particularly Furtwangler's—and watching football. His chief abominations, women's short hair, short skirts, cosmetics and cigarettes. Best saying: "We do not underestimate England's strength."

VICE-ADMIRAL J. C. TOVEY, Commander-in-Chief of the Home Fleet, has shown himself markedly dissimilar from his opposite number. He has been making no vaunting speeches, telling the world, like the prize-fighter of old, just what he plans to do.

Tovey

Jack Tovey has done a great part of saluting in destroyers. In the Onslow, destroyer, at Jutland he stood in to the cruiser Wiesbaden and hit her again and again with his small guns.

His craft disabled, he had a crack at the Derflinger, a capital ship, and finally had to be taken in tow. All this won him a D.S.O. Kipling wrote a story about it.

Is said to be just the man to throw everything at the Germans when the right time comes.

Tovey (pronounced 'Tuvvy') is sixty, and in vigour a young man. The Navy to a man respects him. Best saying: "Tovey doesn't talk."

Total Warfare means Total Sacrifice

MERE WORDS FAIL to emphasise the gravity of the great fight against brutality and oppression, in which we are so seriously engaged. The hordes of Hitler are desperate in their fiendish desire to obliterate the British Empire, and all that it stands for. It is total warfare. Total in the sense that not only are our gallant sailors, soldiers and airmen involved, but civilians as well.

ALREADY THE TOLL of lives amongst the civilian population of the British Isles, is heavy. Already, innocent children are being maimed and blinded. The scene is poignantly grim. Our folk who are in the midst of the holocaust come up smiling after every onslaught—even though they have tears in their eyes and anguish in their hearts. They are Undaunted! Unconquerable!

THEY ARE ENCOURAGED by the great help they are receiving from their kindred nations overseas. In common with the rest of the Empire, Hongkong is helping. Nearly a year ago, the Bomber Fund was started, and thanks to the generosity and the sacrifice of many, over two million dollars have now been subscribed and placed at the disposal of the British Government for the purchase of bombers—so urgently needed to avenge the innocents who have fallen, and to smash the German war machine.

HONGKONG is doing well, but can do still better. There have been magnificent contributions to the Bomber Fund, and there has been great sacrifice on the part of some who have given again and again. Let it be remembered however, that the two million dollars would not have been recorded but for the humble gifts from those who could afford no more.

THIS COLONY enjoys the blessing of peace, but that blessing should serve to stimulate and quicken the desire to give to the greatest cause of all time. Our people at Home know what total warfare means. Let them know that the people of Hongkong understand what total giving means.

AMERICA DECLARES HERSELF

SOLEMNLY, President Roosevelt yesterday issued a warning to Herr Hitler as grave and purposeful as that delivered to Germany by President Wilson 24 years ago. In language, pregnant with meaning, the leader of the United States flung out his answer to the Fuehrer's challenge for world domination, giving added weight to his words by simultaneously proclaiming that a state of unlimited national emergency existed, and calling upon the entire nation to labour ceaselessly and willingly to prevent the disaster with which the Nazis and their cohorts threaten the universe.

As generally anticipated, many of the sentiments expressed by Mr. Roosevelt were reiterated, but he also announced two important new features of United States policy—vis-à-vis the European War which are bound to have far-reaching effects on its future development.

Without in as many words openly committing the U.S. to the employment of armed convoys for the conveying of vital war materials to Britain and the other democracies, the President referred with approval to the effectiveness of this system in the last World War, and added, with profound significance: "The blunt truth is that the present rate of Nazi sinkings of merchantmen is more than three times as high as the British replacement capacity, and more than twice the combined British and American output of merchantmen to-day. We can answer this peril by speeding up and increasing our great shipbuilding programme, and secondly by helping to cut down the losses on the high seas." It is doubtful whether any other sentence in the entire speech will ring so unpleasantly in Hitler's ears.

And if the Nazi leader is still capable of absorbing realistic facts in his perverted mind, surely Mr. Roosevelt's announcement that the United States already has taken, and will continue to take adequate steps to safeguard the nation's vital outposts, must give him cause to ponder. It means that the United States is now prepared to translate warnings into actions; the velvet glove of diplomatic conciliation is off; the iron hand of an implacable foe is exposed. Hitler stands warned by the great champion of the democracies.

The fact that Mr. Roosevelt's speech was directed essentially to Hitler does not mean that his challenging statements were intended to remain unheeded in other parts of the globe. Japan was clearly invited to ponder the President's words and to appreciate the meaning behind his tribute to the "magnificent defence of China."

In short, the entire world to-day now knows where America stands in relation to the conflict which is raging on three continents, and which is threatening a fourth. Unflinchingly, and with the aid of every resource at her disposal, the United States will defy and combat the Totalitarians, even if, in the final analysis, it involves her, like Britain and the other democracies, in total war.

Japanese Deficiency In Science

Govt Stimulation Not Likely To Succeed

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

TOKYO, May 28 (Domel).—The Government programme for accelerating progress in the scientific and technical branches is an essential part of the construction of national defence, was hailed by newspapers including the "Kokumin" and the "Yomiuri" this morning.

"Better late than never," these papers declare. Scientific and technical facilities in Japan are below world levels, these papers point out, blaming Japanese politicians' ignorance of and indifference to scientific matters for the situation. Warning scientists and technicians against their excessive academic attitude, these papers urge the students of science and technical skill to turn their abilities to State purposes.

Total Scientific Spirit

The "Kokumin Shimbun" says that the Japanese spirit has never been "unscientific" as many believe. This spirit must be made "more scientific" because a total war cannot be waged without the nation being armed with a scientific spirit.

While endorsing the proposed "new structure of scientific skill," the "Yomiuri Shimbun" is sceptical whether the proposed facilities for researches in science and technical skill will be realised. So many new Government offices have been created since the outbreak of the China campaign and yet these have failed to achieve their original aims, the paper warns.

TRAIN FIRE TRAGEDY RECALLED

LONDON, May 28 (Reuter).—A verdict of accidental death was returned at the inquest to-day on the victims of a fire on a train in which boys from Ampleforth College, a Catholic school, including two sons of the Belgian Prime Minister, M. Hubert Pierlot, lost their lives.

The coroner said that he had come to the conclusion that the fire started through lighted matches and cigarette ends being thrown about in fun and mischief by the boys, but he did not attach blame to any of them.

A Zoological Monstrosity

Hitler Described

LONDON, May 28 (Reuter).—Hitler is a zoological monstrosity according to Professor Gerbrandi, Prime Minister of the Netherlands.

"Speaking in London to-day the Professor described Hitler as, 'this creature which combines the strength of the rhinoceros, the poison fangs of the snake and the stench of a polecat... inspires only loathing and disgust because it clutches with dishonest hands at the tree of life planted in our Christian civilisation'."

Excessively Valiant Japanese Soldier Will Get Quick Promotion

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

TOKYO, May 28 (Domel).—Following recent changes in Army promotion regulations providing for two-grade elevations of meritorious officers, revised regulations governing the appointment of lower Army officers are being promulgated on May 29.

Non-commissioned officers including Sergeants, may be accorded officer commissions immediately when their excessively valiant deeds in the face of enemy are commended by Commander before the whole force, or when the War Minister proclaims them as model soldiers to the whole Army. Similar distinguished treatment will be given to those who have made exceptionally brilliant contributions toward military matters.

When cadets or non-commissioned officers eligible for officer commission have achieved such distinguished services the new regulations enable them to be promoted at once to the rank of Lieutenant instead of Sub-Lieutenant as hitherto.

Superior Privates may be appointed Sergeant without serving as Corporal according to the distinguished service regulations.

PRINCE BERNHARD, AIRMAN, TELLS OF DUTCH EFFORTS

LONDON, May 28 (Reuter).—Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands recently with his wings and appeared at a meeting in the uniform of an Air Commodore.

He announced that the "Prince Bernhard Fund" has now reached £1,200,000 which had brought 32 bombers manned by Dutch crews and operating from England. Seventy-nine fighters had been presented to the British Government. The Prince added, "Our army too, is getting ready. Extensive forces are now being trained in England and Canada."

CURIOUS POLICE

A patrolman who stood in front of a barber shop in Brooklyn saw 14 men go in and saw 14 come out, none of them with shaves or new haircuts. He went in, and found a book-maker taking bets on horses.

BIG SHIP—Crew stands at attention on the quarterdeck of the new U. S. battleship, North Carolina, as the sea fighter goes into commission at Brooklyn, N. Y., Navy Yard. Three of her nine 16-inch guns are seen. She carries 100 officers and 1,600 men and is the mightiest war vessel afloat.

PARLIAMENT SHOULD HAVE YOUNGER BLOOD

A resolution carried at a meeting of the Central Council of the National Union of Conservative and Unionist Associations recently on the motion of Major Sir Derrick Gunston, M.P., emphasised the urgent need for enlisting in the public service younger people of proved capacity, and stated that "the possession of wealth or the backing of vested interests should never be tacitly accepted as a principal qualification for a local or Parliamentary candidature."

Sir Derrick said: "The prophet Joel spoke about young men seeing visions and old men dreaming dreams. The dictatorship countries are led by comparatively young men who have certainly seen visions through evil, of conquest and the brutal use of seemingly irresistible force."

"They provide a contrast to the democracies, who on the whole were led by old men who dreamed dreams of Europe before the days of Hitler, with an outstanding exception in the present Prime Minister, who was always awake to the dangers."

Money Mind

Warning party selection committees against paying too much attention to the money asset in choosing candidates, he quoted the case of a man of means who was interviewed by a selection committee.

The committee asked him if he would agree to pay £200 election expenses, subscribe £500 a year to local charities. He said he would, and was then told he would be recommended as a proper person to represent them.

He replied: "But are you fit and proper persons to be represented by me? I have come to the conclusion you are not," and he put on his hat and walked out.

Sir Derrick asked: "Are you going to allow this iniquitous system to continue because you are too lazy to work and raise the subscriptions yourselves, with the result that unintentionally you do in fact sell to the highest bidder? If you put a premium on riches you tend to put a premium on age."

Labour No Better

The Labour party was no better. "They may not have so many rich men, though, curiously enough, the parable about it being more difficult for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of Heaven than a camel to pass through the eye of a needle does not apply to a rich Socialist who wants to sit for a particularly Red seat."

The voluntary internees would be elderly refugees or those unable to find work.

The leader of one of the biggest refugee organisations, who has recently been to the Isle of Man, was enthusiastic about the reforms which have taken place.

"I cannot speak too highly," he said, "of the officials in charge of the camps."

While administering the new, humanised system admirably, and with the full co-operation of the internees.

"House and camp leaders have been elected by the internees, and they work excellently with the camp administration."

Camps which were cause for complaint are now running smoothly under the Home Office.

"This is partly due to the fact that the wholesale, indiscriminate internment of anti-Nazi is being remedied."

Likely To Close

"When the panic-internment took place after the invasion of the Low Countries, camps were grossly overcrowded and the administration disastrously overworked."

"Now the internee population of

The Labour bugbear is the vested interests of the trade unions," he said.

He had discovered the ages of 529 M.P.s. Out of them 89 per cent. were over 40, while if the old-age pension was given on age alone about one in three would receive the old-age pension.

Give Youth A Chance

Sir Derrick concluded: "We must see that the best of our splendid youth—who have proved themselves in the fire of battle and have dedicated their lives to the nation in war-time must not be frustrated from serving here in peace."

Mrs Tate, M.P., opposing the resolution, said she had seen young M.P.s fall asleep in the House, but

"I have watched Mr Lloyd George, Earl Winterton, and the Prime Minister. They never fall asleep. There are young people there whose mouths fall gently open before their meal because of the vacuity of their minds and fall gently open after the meal because they are asleep," she said.

Death Of Wealthy Charity Worker

Mrs Pilar Advincula-Javellana, wealthy charity worker and philanthropist, died suddenly of heart failure at Iloilo, P.I., recently.

She was the wife of Angel Javellana, one of the wealthiest landowners and businessmen of Iloilo, and was specially prominent in religious activities.

She was an aunt and adopted mother of Mrs Juanita Javellana-Ledesma, wife of the Iloilo City mayor and acting provincial governor, Oscar Ledesma.

If Nazis Use Blister Gas

PHARMACIES throughout Great Britain are to be asked to help in a scheme to make bleach cream available for members of the public if the enemy uses blister gas. This has been disclosed in the "Lancet."

The proprietor of each pharmacy, having been provided by the authority with two enamel pails and 14lb. of tropical bleach cream in the pails, is to be asked, as soon as gas is used, to mix bleach cream in the pails, and if blister gas is being dropped in the vicinity to place the pails of cream on the pavement outside his shop with a poster instructing the public how to apply it.

Man Choked By Steak

MR JOHN WOOD NEWTON, forty-one-year-old company director, who had important war contracts with the U.S. aircraft industry, was entertaining a friend in a West End restaurant to a luncheon of smoked salmon and beefsteak, when he began to cough and change colour.

Assisted downstairs by his friend, he collapsed and died.

At the inquest held in Westminster, Sir Bernard Spilsbury said death was due to a large piece of meat "going down the wrong way."

A verdict of "Death by misadventure" was returned by the coroner, Mr Bentley Purchase.

BBC Ban Now Lifted

Churchill Explains

Announcement by the Prime Minister that the B.B.C. had lifted its ban on artists who supported the People's Convention followed many protests on the subject.

The ban applied to Michael Redgrave, the film star; Miss Bontrix Lehmann, the actress; Mr Lew Stone, band leader, and many other well-known people.

Dr R. Vaughan Williams, the composer, withdrew a choral song as a protest after the B.B.C. banned the works of Dr Alan Bush, of the Royal Academy of Music.

Mr Churchill told the House of Commons recently that while it was no part of the Government's policy to accord the facilities of the microphone to persons whose words or actions might hamper the nation, the connection between these and musical performances was not apparent.

First Edition Of Keats Sold

In 1874 John Addington Symonds, the critic and poet, presented a copy of the first edition of Keats' "Endymion," 1819, to his bosom friend, Prof. A. C. Bradley. At Solihby's recently Mr Ernest Maggs gave £72 for it.

A rare survivor of St Jerome's "Lives of the Fathers," printed in 1495 at Westminster by Caxton's successor at Westminster, Wynkyn de Worde, brought £200. There was good bidding for books in two days' sale totalling nearly £3,000.

Cheque For Bombers

Sent To London

Owing to upwards of $135,000 being received in donations yesterday, for the Bomber Fund, and the total reaching over $2,118,600, it was possible to send a very large instalment to the British Government towards the purchase of aeroplanes.

The South China Morning Post, Ltd. remitted yesterday the sum of £14,000, the equivalent of H.K. $224,467.04.

British Control Law Test

A Yale clinical professor of medicine, Silber Tileston, filed suit recently in New Haven challenging the constitutionality of Connecticut's birth control ban.

He asked a declaratory judgment so he could prescribe for three women patients without fear of prosecution.

It was a matter of "life or death," he said, that these women be instructed in birth control practices.

Early last year, the court reversed a lower court decision voiding the law. As a result, the Connecticut Birth Control League closed nine clinics and at the current session of the legislature supported a bill repealing the 70-year-old act.

Captives Work For Nazis

Supply From France

In compliance with insistent demands by the Germans that certain foreigners detained in French concentration camps should be sent to work in Germany, 140 Russians interned in the Vernet camp in the Pyrenees and 1,000 penniless Jugo-slavs from various camps in France have been turned over to the Nazis.

The Russians, who have been held in French gaols since May, 1937, were accused of taking part in kidnapping the White Russian General Eugene Miller, who disappeared on Sept. 22, 1937, and was never found again.

Wanted Rouge For 1977

Rouge and face powders are short in Britain. The hoarders know it, but what do they care!

"A woman came in last week and demanded 30 boxes of a certain type of rouge," an assistant at a West End beauty counter told a reporter.

"I pointed out to her that each box would last her a year, and that what she was trying to buy was a 30 years' supply."

"That annoyed her. She seemed to think I was very impertinent to mention it."

"After all, when a box of rouge is going to last a minimum of twelve months it might be reasonable for a woman to ask for two boxes, or even three."

"But when they try to buy up a 30 years' supply..."

Delay In Riom Trials

The lack of energy shown by the Riom Court in getting on with the trial of a number of French political and military leaders, among whom are the ex-Premiers, MM. Daladier, Reynaud and Blum, and the former C-in-C, Gen. Gamelin, is described as "suspicious" in some Spanish quarters.

According to the latest reports, which are not denied by the Press of unoccupied France, the trial has once more been postponed.

The Paris correspondent of the Madrid newspaper "ABC" states that allegations made by the accused against former high officials who are important members of the Vichy Administration have made the Riom Court "afraid to let the cat out of the bag."

Reactions To Roosevelt Vary: Convoy Issue To Be Explained

ZURICH, May 28 (Reuter).—The first press comments show keen disappointment over President Roosevelt's speech which, according to the "Basler Nachrichten," added nothing to what he had already said before.

"If America has decided to enter the war, it is difficult to understand why she does not fulfil this decision in the hour of the greatest need of her Anglo-Saxon friend," says the paper.

The paper assumes that American public opinion is still unprepared.

The article adds: "The declaration of a state of emergency in the United States means delay rather than hastening of the American entry into the war because it shows that President Roosevelt expects a long transition period. Therefore, he obtained powers which, as C-in-C, he would automatically acquire if war were declared."

Freedom of Seas

CANBERRA, May 28 (Reuter).—President Roosevelt's insistence on the "freedom of the seas" in his momentous speech is regarded in authoritative Federal circles as having tremendous significance.

It is believed that this reference, coupled with the proclamation of a state of unlimited national emergency, will lead to abandonment of the previously proclaimed defence zones to the wider use of American ships in the areas from which they hitherto have been deburred and to unhesitating use of force in resisting any attack on them.

Conference

WASHINGTON, May 28 (Reuter).—President Roosevelt is to hold a special press conference late this afternoon, at which he is expected to clear up the question of convoys.

Mr. Stephen Early, the President's Secretary, announced this morning that the President's speech had left some confusion as regards the convoy issue, he replied: "I think he will clear that up this afternoon and I would rather that he did it."

Replying to a question whether President Roosevelt's plea to all citizens to put defence first meant that the time for debate was over, Mr. Early replied that certainly free speech would continue.

Remarking that while the speech represented "90 per cent. of the job," the President still had about 20 per cent. cleaning up to do.

Broke All Records

WASHINGTON, May 28 (Reuter).—The President's Secretary, Mr. Stephen Early, said that a survey made on behalf of the Columbia Broadcasting System showed that the reception of the President's address broke all previous records, it being calculated that 65,000,000 persons in the United States, plus 20,000,000 in Canada, South America and Britain, listened to the broadcast.

He said that telegrams and telephone calls pouring into the White House broke all records, it being impossible to tabulate them.

Mr. Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, said that as far as he was able to learn, the reaction generally had been excellent, this appearing to apply also to Latin American diplomats.

Listeners In Sydney

SYDNEY, May 28 (Reuter).—So great was the interest in President Roosevelt's declaration that radio shops were packed with listeners who even blocked the sidewalks.

Cars equipped with radiosets were surrounded with people listening intently and listeners similarly thronged hotel lounges.

Japanese Stock Market

TOKYO, May 28 (Domei).—The Stock market turned irregular as most traders after a careful study of the full text of the President's speech adopted a cautious attitude.

Silk and cotton markets also reacted favourably to the President's speech but the underlying sentiment was not too optimistic.

London Opinion

LONDON, May 28 (Reuter).—"President Roosevelt has cleared the decks for action," said a London spokesman.

The President's Declaration

The President's declaration of the freedom of the seas, is interpreted here as fresh evidence of the President's unusual political astuteness.

At the time of the controversy over material aid for Britain, President Roosevelt cut the Gordian knot by the simple solution of the Lend Lease Bill. To-day he has done a similar thing on the specific and possibly controversial matter of convoys—he has proclaimed the broad and fundamental policy of freedom of the seas and this embraces everything in this respect.

U.S. Newspapers

WASHINGTON, May 28 (Reuter).—That the nation has been doubly stirred by President Roosevelt's speech is obvious from the favourable comment continuing to pour in from all over the country.

"Our conclusion. We are in it," said the "New York Post" with huge black streamers, says: "The President has spoken our will to act without further notice to safeguard Dakar, the Azores and Cape Verde."

Renewed Faith

Governor Lehmann of New York said: "The speech will bring renewed faith and strength to those bravely fighting to preserve their own freedom and the liberties of those other countries who still remain free."

The "New York Sun" with a streamer, says: "The United States, on emergency basis, is committed to stop the Axis."

Meanwhile newspapers throughout the country are generally favourable. The "Philadelphia Public Ledger" says: "The hour of decision has found American public opinion thoroughly prepared."

Verge of War

TOKYO, May 28 (Reuter).—"On the verge of War" is the heading of a leading article in the "Japan Times and Advertiser" on President Roosevelt's speech.

It says that there is no shadow or sign of neutrality in the speech but rather a determined stand against German rights to a promise to challenge the last vestiges of neutrality.

The last vestiges of neutrality have been stripped from the United States, not by any desire of the people as expressed in the Neutrality Act but by the acts and words of the President.

London May Go On Dancing

DANCING in the London area will be allowed to continue as at present.

The decision has been reached by Mr. Herbert Morrison, Minister for Home Security, following a review of recent air-raid casualties in dance halls.

Mr. Morrison is anxious to interfere as little as possible with legitimate recreation.

He had to consider the relative risks and the possible effect of closing down this form of entertainment.

As hitherto, people attending dance halls will be warned when an Alert is sounded.

Managements will be under an obligation to inform dancers where the nearest shelters are.

Praise For Troops

Referring to the mines and demolitions left by the retreating Italians, Lord Birdwood said: "No troops could have done better than my Indian friends in circumventing these difficulties."

Lord Croft warmly concerned with Lord Birdwood's praise of the Empire troops, notably the Indians and South Africans, and said: "When we realise the colossal distance travelled in the great hunt for the Bismarck, it gives more idea of the distances covered up the East African sea-coast to Addis Ababa, for within a month every capital of the Italian East African Empire was occupied."

Mediterranean Drive

Dealing with the importance of the African operations, Lord Croft declared that the obvious strategy of the Axis is to pinch off Egypt and the Suez Canal, and endeavour to drive us from the Mediterranean.

Our first great essential, therefore, was to remove the great menace of the Duke of Aosta's Army of 250,000 being able to attack us through the Sudan and Suez.

The success of the operations may well have been a very decisive influence on the momentous days which face us in the Middle East.

ANY OVERT ACT WILL BRING THE UNITED STATES INTO THE WAR

Special to the "Telegraph"

WASHINGTON, MAY 28 (UP).—THE SCRIPPS-HOWARD COLUMNIST, MR WILLIAM SIMMS WRITES TO-DAY THAT "FOREIGN ENVOYS HERE HAVE WARNED THEIR GOVERNMENTS THAT THE UNITED STATES IS AWAITING ONLY AN OVERT ACT BY THE AXIS TO ENTER THE WAR." THAT IS THE INTERPRETATION ON THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS AND PROCLAMATION.

Ceaseless Action By The R. A. F.

Enemy Aerodromes Smashed

CAIRO, May 28 (Reuter).—The bombing of Aleppo aerodrome in Syria and a successful series of raids on the enemy-occupied aerodrome at Malemi in Crete are the highlights of an official Middle East air communique.

BISMARCK LOSSES

Total 2,000 Men

ZURICH, May 28 (Reuter).—Nearly 2,000 men were lost in the sinking of the German battleship Bismarck, according to an estimate reported by the Berlin correspondent of the "Basler Nachrichten," who observes that crews on German ships are bigger than on British.

Reconnaissance

LONDON, May 28 (Reuter).—"It was a great hunt and we are eager and ready for more," states a message to the Admiralty from the Commander-in-Chief, Coastal Command, replying to a signal from the Admiralty gratefully acknowledging the part played by the Coastal Command in reconnaissance for the Bismarck.

The signal from the Admiralty states that this reconnaissance "contributed in a large measure to the successful outcome of the recent operation."

No Repeal Of Neutrality Legislation

WASHINGTON, May 28 (Reuter).—President Roosevelt has no intention of asking for a repeal of the Neutrality Act and is not considering its revision.

The President made this clear at a special press conference today to clarify certain outstanding questions following his "fireside chat."

The President added that he was not at present considering any executive orders to implement his proclamation of a state of "unlimited national emergency."

Wavell's Abyssinian Campaign Vindicated

LONDON, May 28 (Reuter).—General Sir Archibald Wavell's strategy in completing the conquest of the Italian East African empire when distractions were afoot further north was vindicated in the House of Lords to-day by Field Marshal Lord Birdwood and the Under-Secretary for War, Lord Croft.

Lord Birdwood, who is often called the "Father of the Indian Army," said that he had an uncomfortable feeling that unwittingly, full justice had not been done to the magnificent work of the officers and men from India, Dominions and colonies in the East African campaign.

British Raid On Tunisia

Stax Bombed

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

VICHY, May 28 (UP).—It is officially stated that British planes bombed Stax in Tunisia, this morning. The French spokesman asserted that the Government fails to understand the reason for this act, as Stax which is the principal market city on the Tunisian east coast, has no fortifications and no naval or air base.

An official report from Beirut says the French shot down a British Glenn Martin bomber at 10.30 a.m. during a raid on the Neral airfield near Aleppo.

The fact that President Roosevelt acquainted Congressional leaders beforehand with what he intended to say made his pronouncements as coming as close to a war declaration as the President is able to go. The United States policy is described as a clear ultimatum which, in effect, is what the speech could be called, without great exaggeration.

Columnist Raymond Clapper stated, "America has changed overnight. Without action by Congress or any mention thereof, President Roosevelt assumed new powers. The President placed himself in a position to begin an undeclared war, or rather unannounced fighting against the Axis when his judgment calls for it. This is, in effect, an executive declaration that a state of war exists."

IF AXIS START SHOOTING U.S. "Task Forces" Will Reply

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

WASHINGTON, May 28 (UP).—Informed quarters to-day interpreted President Roosevelt's assurance that Britain would receive war goods as a signal for extended United States naval operations on the Atlantic, probably by "task forces," especially designed to meet the Axis threat.

They were of the opinion that these would probably be composed of battleships, aircraft-carriers, destroyers and submarines, and it was predicted that they would operate similar to the British squadrons which sought the Bismarck.

Some sources stated that the initiative for shooting in open sea warfare will be left to the Axis.

If the Axis decline to fight vastly superior forces, the goods will be delivered without shooting but, they observed, if an attack was made, then the United States would be unable to insure delivery of the goods without returning the fire.

LATEST

Almost Undeclared War

WASHINGTON, May 28 (UP)

—President Roosevelt has led the nation near to the limits of an undeclared war if he is prepared to implement his unlimited emergency proclamation. A special press conference is scheduled for to-day in order to elaborate and explain the message.

The President said last night that strikes and lock-outs must cease abruptly in order to enlarge the scope of the Aid-to-Britain programme, and this supported by a list of threats to deliver war materials to the fighting men with armed force. The pledge went far beyond convicts which the Administration considers obsolete. The speech aroused a national clamour of applause despite Representative Melvin Maas saying, "This means war." Senator Tom Connally declared that it was a "ringing call to duty and service for all Americans."

Senator Robert Taft asserted, "The declaration of an unlimited national emergency has no legal effect whatsoever. The President has no statutory or constitutional authority to declare such an emergency."

Very "Encouraging"

Senator Carter Glass, "I agreed with every word and more besides."

Speaker Sam Rayburn of the House stated, "It will be very encouraging for the democratic peoples throughout the world."

Senator George said, "It was a very strong statement of the Administration's basic philosophy."

Representative Hamilton Fish thought it was "just sop to the interventionists."

Senator Gerald Nye asserted, "The President gives notice that we are already conveying."

Senator Pat McCarran declared, "I think it is another way of declaring war."

Senator Robert Wagner was of the opinion that "President Roosevelt has firmly accepted and courageously exercised the great responsibility invested in him by the American people in an unparalleled world crisis."

Senator Wheeler's Reactions
INDIANAPOLIS, May 28 (UP).—Senator Burton Wheeler, regarding President Roosevelt's speech declared "It was a virtual declaration of war. The President talks about hard cold facts but no one in America has tried to create fear in the minds of the American people more than President Roosevelt since March, 1933. I do not know what the President means by declaring an emergency. What more powers can he take than what he already has, unless he has taken over labour, industry, communications and the press?"

SUBMARINE USK NOW OVERDUE
SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"
LONDON, May 28 (UP).—The Admiralty to-day announced that the British submarine "Usk" is overdue and must be considered lost.

One Of The 1941 War Methods

Novel indeed are some of the methods and tactics adopted in the present war. Here is something the British army learnt from the invasion of the Lowlands. Picture shows Guardsmen, armed with Tommy Guns attacking an "enemy" post during manoeuvres "somewhere in England."

Crete Forces Locked Together In Great Slogging Match

CAIRO, May 28 (Reuter).—Authoritative military circles summed up the Creta battle to-night as follows:

"It is continuing to develop as an intensive stand-up slogging match. The fighting is hard, particularly in the area between Canea and Malemi."

Hell Fire Pass

Abandoned

New Situation In North Africa

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

CAIRO, May 28 (UP).—The situation in North Africa has taken a new turn, and British General Headquarters to-day issued a communique which states that Hell Fire Pass, near Tobruk, has been temporarily abandoned by Imperial troops.

It was at Hell Fire Pass where Graziani's army made its last attempt to withstand the British offensive, but the strategic situation was secured after a few days of intensive fighting following a brilliant movement by the attacking forces.

The same communique announces that fighting continues on the Egyptian side of the Libyan-Egyptian frontier.

The enemy has taken Halfaya Pass. Operations extend for about 15 miles south from the sea.

The situation at Sollum is obscure.

Honours For African War Heroes

LONDON, May 28 (Reuter).

—In recognition of the recent successful operations in East Africa, His Majesty the King has ordered the following promotions in and appointments of the Order of the Bath:

To Knights Commander.—Lieut. General Alan Gordon Cunningham (brother of Admiral Sir Andrew Cunningham) and Major-General William Platt.

To Companions of the Order of the Bath.—Major-General Alfred Reddo Godwin-Austen; Colonel Harry Edward de Robillard Wetherall and Brigadier-General George Edwin Beink, of the South African Staff Corps.

To Knight Commander of the British Empire.—Major-General Lewis Maclellan Heath of the Indian Army.

Norwegians Agree To Help Us

New Pact Signed

LONDON, May 28 (Reuter).

—Determination to prosecute the war to a successful conclusion is affirmed in the Anglo-Norwegian Agreement concerning the organisation and employment of Norwegian armed forces in the United Kingdom signed to-day by the British and Norwegian Foreign Ministers.

The two governments have agreed that one of the objects of the war is the re-establishment of freedom and independence of Norway through its complete liberation from German domination.

They recognise the importance in their common interest of maintaining the armed forces of Norway and have agreed on principles on which these armed forces will be organised for co-operation with the Allied armed forces.

Air Attacks On Cologne

Large Fires Started

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

LONDON, May 28 (UP).—It is authoritatively stated that industrial targets at Cologne were attacked last night.

"Bursts were seen on important objectives and several large fires were started." Smaller forces attacked the docks at Boulogne.

Bomber planes made a "particularly successful raid" on the enemy aerodrome at Lannion, Brittany, yesterday afternoon and destroyed several aircraft on the ground.

Enemy Shipping Suffers: Convoy and Liner Sunk

LONDON, May 28 (Reuter).

—Five armed trawlers were escorting a German supply ship of approximately 5,000 tons which was struck twice by heavy bombs dropped by an R.A.F. Coastal Command aircraft off Brest to-day.

The supply ship was left listing and settling down after the pilot of the British plane estimated that his second salvo "torpedoed" the ship below the water-line.

All the armed trawlers opened fire but the aircraft was hit only twice.

French Tanker Sunk

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

LONDON, May 28 (UP).—An Admiralty communique states that a French tanker of about 5,000 tons which was enroute to Tripoli escorted by an Italian warship was torpedoed and sunk. A liner of about 1,800 tons carrying about 3,000 troops to Libya was hit with two torpedoes and is considered to have been sunk.

Captives Work For Nazis Supply From France

In compliance with insistent demands by the Germans that certain foreigners detained in French concentration camps should be sent to work in Germany, 140 Russians interned in the Vernet camp in the Pyrenees and 1,000 penniless Jugo-Slavs from various camps in France have been turned over to the Nazis. The Russians, who have been held in French gaoles since May 1937, were accused of taking part in kidnapping the White Russian General Eugene Miller, who disappeared on Sept. 22, 1937, and was never found again.

MARRIAGE OF MISS I. LAMMERT TO LT K. WATSON

At a quiet, informal ceremony in the Lady Chapel of St John's Cathedral yesterday, Miss Florence Isabel Lammert, second daughter of Mr and Mrs Lionel Lammert, of No. 1 Chatham Road, became the bride of Lieut Kenneth Albert Watson, of the Hongkong Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve, son of Mr and Mrs James Watson, of Edinburgh.

The Rev. Cyril Brown, Hon. Chaplain of the H.K.R.N.V.R., officiated, and Mr J. R. M. Smith was at the organ.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked lovely in an afternoon frock of moss-green with white spots. The bridegroom wore a green and lavender floral georgette dress with lavender hat and accessories to match. The ensemble was offset by a corsage of white blooms.

Lieut B. J. B. Morahan, of the Hongkong Royal Naval Volunteer Reserve, undertook the duties of best man.

Reactions To Roosevelt Vary: Convoy Issue To Be Explained

ZURICH, May 28, (Reuter).—The first press comments show keen disappointment over President Roosevelt's speech which, according to the "Basler Nachrichten," added nothing to what he had already said before.

"If America has decided to enter the war, it is difficult to understand why she does not fulfil this decision in the hour of the greatest need of her Anglo-Saxon friend," says the paper.

The paper assumes that American public opinion is still unprepared.

The article adds: "The declaration of a state of emergency in the United States means delay rather than hastening of the Americans' entry into the war because it shows that President Roosevelt expects a long transition period. Therefore, he obtained powers which, as C-in-C, he would automatically acquire if war were declared."

CANBERRA, May 28 (Reuter).—President Roosevelt's insistence on the "freedom of the seas" in his momentous speech is regarded in authoritative Federal circles as having tremendous significance.

It is believed that this reference, coupled with the proclamation of a state of unlimited national emergency, will lead to abandonment of the previously proclaimed defence zones, to much wider use of American ships in the areas from which they hitherto have been debarred and to unhesitating use of force in resisting any attack on them.

WASHINGTON, May 28 (Reuter).—President Roosevelt is to hold a special press conference late this afternoon, at which he is expected to clear up the question of convoys.

Mr Stephen Early, the President's Secretary, announced this morning, when told by reporters that the President's speech had left some confusion as regards the convoy issue, he replied: "I think he will clear that up this afternoon and I would rather that he did it."

Replying to a question whether President Roosevelt's plan to all citizens to put defence first meant that the time for debate was over, Mr Early replied that "certainly" free speech would continue.

WASHINGTON, May 28 (Reuter).—The President's Secretary, Mr Stephen Early, said that a survey made on behalf of the Columbia Broadcasting System showed that the reception of the President's address broke all previous records. It being calculated that 65,650,000 persons in the United States, plus 20,000,000 in Canada, South America and Britain, listened to the broadcast.

He said that telegrams and telephone calls pouring into the White House broke all records, it being impossible to tabulate them.

Mr Cordell Hull, Secretary of State, said that as far as he was able to learn, the reaction generally had been excellent, this appearing to apply also to Latin American diplomats.

Listeners in Sydney SYDNEY, May 28 (Reuter).—So great was the interest in President Roosevelt's declaration that radio shops were packed. Listeners who blocked the sidewalks.

Cars equipped with radio sets were surrounded with people listening intently and listeners similarly thronged hotel lounges.

Japanese Stock Market SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH" TOKYO, May 28 (Domei).—The Stock market turned irregular as most traders after a careful study of the full text of the President's speech adopted a cautious attitude.

Silk and cotton markets also reacted favourably to the President's speech but the underlying sentiment was not too optimistic.

London Opinion LONDON, May 28 (Reuter).—"President Roosevelt has cleared the decks for action," said a London spokesman.

The President's declaration of the freedom of the seas, is interpreted here as fresh evidence of the President's unusual political astuteness.

At the time of the controversy over material aid for Britain, President Roosevelt cut the Gordian knot by the simple solution of the Lend Lease and Trade Bill. To-day he has done a similar thing on the specific and possibly controversial matter of convoys—he has proclaimed the broad and fundamental policy of freedom of the seas and this embraces everything in this respect.

U.S. Newspapers WASHINGTON, May 28 (Reuter).—That the nation has been doubly stirred by President Roosevelt's

Dragon Festival Boat Race

The Chinese "Dragon" Festival, which falls on Friday, the 5th day of the 5th Moon, will be celebrated in Hongkong by the Chinese community in time-honoured fashion by competitive races with "dragon" boats. The meetings will be conducted by the Chung Sing Benevolent Society from their bathing shed in Kennedy Town.

Five dragon boats, representing Kowloon, Shaikwan, Aberdeen, Cheung Chau and Wanchai, will participate, and the first race is scheduled to start at 3 p.m. sharp. Four or five events will be held over distances from 200 to 800 yards. The dragon boat is about 50 feet long, and manned by a crew of 80, who sit abreast in rows of two. They are provided with paddles about four feet in length with thin, broad blades. The cox sits at the stern but does comparatively nothing more than steer the course. A big wooden drum is placed at the bow and the oarsmen dip their paddles into the water to the stroke of the drummer. A gong is also struck in unison with the drum.

A huge banner with the name of the competitor is flown at the bow, while amidships and at the stern smaller flags are hoisted.

The annual boat race attracts hundreds of the floating population, who line their craft up almost along the whole length of the course. As the boats are raced past them, long strings of fire crackers are let off. It is a superstitious belief that good luck attends he who gets splashed by water from a racing dragon boat. It is understood that His Excellency the Governor, Sir Geoffrey Northcote, the Hon. Mr. L. Smith and Mrs. Smith, the Hon. Mr. T. A. C. North, the Hon. Mr. A. B. Purves, the Hon. Mr. J. P. Pennefather-Evans, Chinese members on the Legislative Council, prominent Chinese business men and others have been invited to attend the boat racing events.

AMERICA DECLARES HERSELF

SOLENNLY, President Roosevelt yesterday issued a warning to Herr Hitler as grave and purposeful as that delivered to Germany by President Wilson 24 years ago. In language, pregnant with meaning, the leader of the United States flung out his answer to the Fuehrer's challenge for world domination, giving added weight to his words by simultaneously proclaiming that a state of unlimited national emergency existed, and calling upon the entire nation to labour ceaselessly and willingly to prevent the disaster with which the Nazis and their cohorts threaten the universe.

As generally anticipated, many of the sentiments expressed by Mr Roosevelt were reiterated, but he also announced two important new features of United States policy vis-a-vis the European War which are bound to have far-reaching effects on its future development.

Without in as many words openly committing the U.S. to the employment of armed convoys for the conveying of vital war materials to Britain and the other democracies, the President referred with approval to the effectiveness of this system in the last World War, and added, with profound significance: "The blunt truth is that the present rate of Nazi sinkings of merchantmen is more than three times as high as the British replacement capacity, and more than twice the combined British and American output of merchantmen to-day. We can answer this peril by speeding up and increasing our great shipbuilding programme, and secondly by helping to cut down the losses on the high seas." It is doubtful whether any other sentence in the entire speech will ring so unpleasantly in Hitler's ears.

And if the Nazi leader is still capable of absorbing realistic facts in his perverted mind, surely Mr Roosevelt's announcement that the United States already has taken, and will continue to take adequate steps to safeguard the nation's vital outposts, must give him cause to ponder. It means that the United States is now prepared to translate warnings into actions; the velvet glove of diplomatic conciliation is off; the iron hand of an implacable foe is exposed. Hitler stands warned by the great champion of the democracies.

The fact that Mr Roosevelt's speech was directed essentially to Hitler does not mean that his challenging statements were intended to remain unheeded in other parts of the globe. Japan was clearly invited to ponder the President's words and to appreciate the meaning behind his tribute to the "magnificent defence of China."

In short, the entire world to-day now knows where America stands in relation to the conflict which is raging on three continents, and which is threatening a fourth. Unflinchingly, and with the aid of every resource at her disposal, the United States will defy and combat the Totalitarians, even if, in the final analysis, it involves her, like Britain and the other democracies, in total war.

FLEET AIR ARM PROVES STRENGTH AGAIN IN SINKING OF BISMARCK

These official Admiralty pictures show how the Fleet Air Arm operates from an aircraft carrier. Here a plane has just come up through the well and is having its wings spread.

These are Blackburn Skua dive-bombers assembled on the deck of the carrier. They are ready to take off to attack the enemy.

An aircraft flying off to take part in the attack.

The Bismarck was damaged by torpedoes of this type, soon in this picture being launched from a Fairey Swordfish plane.

Return after a successful operation. Signals guide the landing on the aircraft carrier.

Details of the sinking of the giant Nazi battleship, Bismarck, as issued by the Admiralty and published in the "Telegraph" yesterday, have thrilled all Hongkong just as the news has excited the imagination of people all over the world.

The communique makes mention of the big part which aircraft of the Fleet Air Arm played in running down and shattering the enemy battleship. In the determined pursuit of the Bismarck by British naval forces, seeking to avenge the chance sinking of H.M.S. Hood, the first blows were struck by naval torpedo aircraft from the aircraft carrier, Victorious. Subsequently, torpedo aircraft from the Ark Royal also attacked the Bismarck by the same means.

These successful attacks caused damage to the Nazi battleship and slowed it down, paving the way for its eventual dispatch to the depths by the surface battle fleet.

The Fleet Air Arm has by this latest exploit proved once again its strength and the effectiveness of aerial torpedo attack. The first big success secured by use of this method of warfare was at Taranto, when Mussolini's much-vaunted battle fleet was cut to pieces.

The development of flying for war purposes originated in the British Navy. Its earliest pioneers, who included Admiral Sir Cecil Talbot, now Director of Dockyards, and Sir Archibald Cochrane, until recently Governor of Burma, were submarine officers who understood the effectiveness of the torpedo as a weapon. During the past few years, and especially since the outbreak of the present war, this branch of the fighting services has been brought to a high pitch of efficiency.

The Fleet Air Arm is served by many types of aircraft, including dive-bombers and fighters, but the torpedo plane remains the speciality. One of the most striking features of this method of warfare is that it is designed with a single eye to hitting the target with precision. Should the torpedoes, or the dive-bombers' bombs, miss their mark, civilians do not suffer, as British and other European civilian populations suffer so cruelly at the hands of German pilots. The Navy, true to its tradition, strikes fiercely at its enemy's armed forces, but spares non-combatants.—A. C. G.

4 NAVY CHIEFS

ERICH RAEDER, Commander-in-Chief of the Nazi Navy. His rank, Grand Admiral; his age, sixty-four; his reputation, shrewd, capable sailor, a martinet in discipline.

Raeder

He knows what it is to be at the receiving end of the Royal Navy's merciless artillery. He was in the Lutzow at Jutland when she was pounded by the gunfire of our big ships, but Raeder escaped.

His chief amusements are listening to music—particularly Furtwangler's—and watching football. His chief abominations, women's short hair, short skirts, cosmetics and cigarettes. Best saying: "We do not underestimate England's strength."

VICE-ADMIRAL J. C. TOVEY, Commander-in-Chief of the Home Fleet, has shown himself markedly dissimilar from his opposite number. He has been making no vaunting speeches, telling the world, like the prize-fighter of old, just what he plans to do.

Jack Tovey has done a great part of sailing in destroyers. In the Onslow, destroyer, at Jutland he stood in to the cruiser Wiesbaden and hit her again and again with his small guns. His craft disabled, he had a crack at the Derfflinger, a capital ship, and finally had to be taken in tow. All this won him a D.S.O. Kipling wrote a story about it.

Is said to be just the man to throw everything at the Germans when the right time comes.

Tovey (pronounced Tuvvy) is sixty, and in vigour a young man. The Navy to a man respects him! Best saying: "Tovey doesn't talk."

Total Warfare means Total Sacrifice

MERE WORDS FAIL to emphasise the gravity of the great fight against brutality and oppression, in which we are so seriously engaged. The hordes of Hitler are desperate in their fiendish desire to obliterate the British Empire, and all that it stands for. It is total warfare. Total in the sense that not only are our gallant sailors, soldiers and airmen involved, but civilians as well.

ALREADY THE TOLL of lives amongst the civilian population of the British Isles, is heavy. Already, innocent children are being maimed and blinded. The scene is poignantly grim. Our folk who are in the midst of the holocaust come up smiling after every onslaught—even though they have tears in their eyes and anguish in their hearts. They are Undaunted! Unconquerable!

THEY ARE ENCOURAGED by the great help they are receiving from their kindred nations overseas. In common with the rest of the Empire, Hongkong is helping. Nearly a year ago, the Bomber Fund was started, and thanks to the generosity and the sacrifice of many, over two million dollars have now been subscribed and placed at the disposal of the British Government for the purchase of bombers—so urgently needed to avenge the innocents who have fallen, and to smash the German war machine.

HONGKONG is doing well, but can do still better. There have been magnificent contributions to the Bomber Fund, and there has been great sacrifice on the part of some who have given again and again. Let it be remembered however, that the two million dollars would not have been recorded but for the humble gifts from those who could afford no more.

THIS COLONY enjoys the blessing of peace, but that blessing should serve to stimulate and quicken the desire to give to the greatest cause of all time. Our people at Home know what total warfare means. Let them know that the people of Hongkong understand what total giving means.

Japanese Deficiency In Science

Govt Stimulation Not Likely To Succeed

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

TOKYO, May 28 (Domel).—The Government programme for accelerating progress in the scientific and technical branches as an essential part of the construction of national defence, was hailed by newspapers including the "Kokumin" and the "Yomiuri" this morning.

"Better late than never," these papers declare. Scientific and technical facilities in Japan are below world levels, these papers point out, blaming Japanese politicians' ignorance of and indifference to scientific matters for the situation.

Warning scientists and technicians against their excessive academic attitude, these papers urge the students of science and technical skill to turn their abilities to State purposes.

Total Scientific Spirit

The "Kokumin Shimbun" says that the Japanese spirit has never been "unscientific" as many believe. This spirit, must be made "more scientific" because a total war cannot be waged without the nation being armed with a scientific spirit.

While endorsing the proposed "new structure of scientific skill," the "Yomiuri Shimbun" is sceptical whether the proposed facilities for researches in science and technical skill will be realised. So many new Government offices have been created since the outbreak of the China campaign and yet these have failed to achieve their original aims, the paper warns.

Delay In Riom Trials

The lack of energy shown by the Riom Court in getting on with the trial of a number of French political and military leaders, among whom are the ex-Premiers, MM. Daladier, Reynaud and Blum, and the former C-in-C, Gen. Gamelin, is described as "suspicious" in some Spanish quarters.

According to the latest reports, which are not denied by the Press of unoccupied France, the trial has once more been postponed.

The Paris correspondent of the Madrid newspaper "ABC," states that allegations made by the accused against former high officials who are now important members of the Vichy Administration have made the Riom Court "afraid to let the cat out of the bag."

A Zoological Monstrosity Hitler Described

LONDON, May 28 (Reuter).—Hitler is a zoological monstrosity according to Professor Gerbrandt, Prime Minister of the Netherlands.

Speaking in London to-day the Professor described Hitler as "this creature which combines the strength of the rhinoceros, the poison fangs of the snake and the stench of a polecat." He inspired only loathing and disgust because it clutches with dishonest hands at the tree of life planted in our Christian civilisation.

PRINCE BERNHARD, AIRMAN, TELLS OF DUTCH EFFORTS

LONDON, May 28 (Reuter).—Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands recently won his wings and appeared at a meeting in the uniform of an Air Commodore.

He announced that the "Prince Bernhard Fund" has now reached £1,200,000 which had brought 32 bombers manned by Dutch crews and operating from England. Seventy-nine fighters had been presented to the British Government. The Prince added, "Our army too, is getting ready. Extensive forces are now being trained in England and Canada."

Excessively Valiant Japanese Soldier Will Get Quick Promotion

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

TOKYO, May 28 (Domel).—Following recent changes in Army promotion regulations providing for two-grade elevations of meritorious officers, revised regulations governing the appointment of lower Army officers are being promulgated on May 29.

Non-commissioned officers including Sergeants, may be accorded officer commission immediately when their excessively valiant deeds in the face of enemy are commended by Commander before the whole force, or when the War Minister proclaims them as model soldiers to the whole Army. Similarly distinguished treatment will be given to those who have made exceptionally brilliant contributions toward military matters.

When cadets or non-commissioned officers eligible for officer commission have achieved such distinguished services the new regulations enable them to be promoted at once to the rank of Lieutenant instead of Sub-Lieutenant as hitherto.

Sergeants without serving as Corporal according to the distinguished service regulations.

BIG SHIP—Crew stands at attention on the quarterdeck of the new U. S. battleship, North Carolina, as the sea fighter goes into commission at Brooklyn, N. Y., Navy Yard. Three of her nine 16-inch guns are seen. She carries 100 officers and 1,600 men and is the mightiest war vessel afloat.

PARLIAMENT SHOULD HAVE YOUNGER BLOOD

A resolution carried at a meeting of the Central Council of the National Union of Conservative and Unionist Associations recently on the motion of Major Sir Derrick Gunston, M.P., emphasised the urgent need for enlisting in the public service younger people of proved capacity, and stated that "the possession of wealth or the backing of vested interests should never be tacitly accepted as a principal qualification for a local or Parliamentary candidature."

Sir Derrick said: "The prophet Joel spoke about young men seeing visions and old men dreaming dreams. The dictatorship countries are led by comparatively young men who have certainly seen visions through evil, of conquest and the brutal use of seemingly irresistible force."

"They provide a contrast to the democracies, who on the whole were led by old men who dreamed dreams of Europe before the days of Hitler, with an outstanding exception in the present Prime Minister, who was always awake to the dangers."

Money Mind

Warning party selection committees against paying too much attention to the money asset in choosing candidates, he quoted the case of a man of means who was interviewed by a selection committee.

The committee asked him if he would agree to pay £500 election expenses, subscribe £500 a year to local charities, and he would, and was then told he would be recommended as a proper person to represent them.

He replied: "But are you fit and proper persons to be represented by me? I have come to the conclusion you are not," and he put on his hat and walked out.

Sir Derrick asked: "Are you going to allow this iniquitous system to continue because you are too lazy to work and raise the subscriptions yourselves, with the result that unintentionally you do in fact sell to the highest bidder? If you put a premium on riches you tend to put a premium on age."

Labour No Better

The Labour party was no better. "They may not have so many rich men, though, curiously enough, the parable about it being more difficult for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of Heaven than a camel to pass through the eye of a needle does not apply to a rich Socialist who wants to sit for a particularly Red seat."

The Labour bugbear is the vested interests of the trade unions," he said.

He had discovered the ages of 520 M.P.s. Out of them 39 per cent. were over 40, while the old-age pension was given on age alone about one in three would receive the old-age pension.

Give Youth A Chance

Sir Derrick concluded: "We must see that the best of our splendid youth who have proved themselves in the fire of battle and have dedicated their lives to the nation in war-time must not be frustrated from serving here in peace."

Mrs Tate, M.P., opposing the resolution, said she had seen young M.P.s fall asleep in the House, but "I have watched Mr Lloyd George, Earl Winterton, and the Prime Minister. They never fall asleep. There are young people there whose mouths fall gently open before their meal because of the vacuity of their minds and fall gently open after the meal because they are asleep," she said.

Death Of Wealthy Charity Worker

Mrs Pilar Advincula-Javellana, wealthy charity worker and philanthropist, died suddenly of heart failure at Iloilo, P.I., recently.

She was the wife of Angel Javellana, one of the wealthiest landowners and businessmen of Iloilo, and was especially prominent in religious activities.

She was an aunt and adopted mother of Mrs Juanita Javellana-Ledesma, wife of the Iloilo City mayor and acting provincial governor, Oscar Ledesma.

Life Is Good Now In Internment Camps

Conditions in the internment camps in Britain have been so much improved that those concerned with the welfare of refugees now want to get people into them instead of out of them. That is, of course, subject to the release of the ardent anti-Nazis who want to be in the struggle, writes a "Daily Herald" reporter.

The voluntary internees would be elderly refugees or those unable to find work.

The leader of one of the biggest refugee organisations, who has recently been to the Isle of Man, was enthusiastic about the reforms which have taken place.

"I cannot speak too highly," he said, "of the officials in charge of the camps."

"They are administering the new, humanised system, admirably, and with the full co-operation of the internees."

"House and camp leaders have been elected by the internees, and they work excellently with the camp administration."

"Camps which were cause for complaint are now running smoothly under the Home Office."

"This is partly due to the fact that the wholesale, indiscriminate internment of anti-Nazis is being remedied."

Likely To Close

"When the panic-internment took place after the invasion of the Low Countries, camps were grossly overcrowded and the administration disgracefully overworked."

"Now the internee population of the Isle of Man is considerably less than half what it was six months ago. Some of the camps are likely to be closed through lack of occupants."

"Some of the camps have excellent playing-fields, and a good deal of land has been taken over for the growing of vegetables and other production."

Studies Continued

"Cook, bookies and clerical staffs have been recruited from among the internees."

"Feeding is arranged in houses, and not on a general communal principle. Bakeries, laundries and so on have been established."

"Everything possible is done to keep the internees lively and interested."

"More might be done to provide work training—tailoring, carpentry, handicrafts and elementary industrial training."

"Excellent libraries are available, and students and others are encouraged to continue their studies and to equip themselves for their careers."

"Recently the British Council has undertaken the supply of specialised textbooks for this purpose."

"The morale of the internees is excellent now," he said.

If Nazis Use Blister Gas

PHARMACIES throughout Great Britain are to be asked to help in a scheme to make bleach cream available for members of the public if the enemy uses blister gas. This has been disclosed in the "Lancet."

The proprietor of each pharmacy, having been provided by the authority with two enamel pails and 14lb. of tropical bleach cream in the pails, is to be asked, as soon as gas is used, to mix bleach cream in the pails, and if blister gas is being dropped in the vicinity to place the pails of cream on the pavement outside his shop with a poster instructing the public how to apply it.

Man Choked By Steak

MR JOHN WOOD NEWTON, forty-one-year-old company director, who had important war contracts with the U.S. aircraft industry, was entertaining a friend in a West End restaurant to a luncheon of smoked salmon and beefsteak, when he began to cough and change colour. Assisted downstairs by his friend, he collapsed and died.

At the inquest held in Westminster, Sir Bernard Spilsbury said death was due to a large piece of meat "going down the wrong way."

A verdict of "Death by misadventure" was returned by the coroner, Mr Bentley Purchase.

BBC Ban Now Lifted

Churchill Explains

Announcement by the Prime Minister that the B.B.C. had lifted its ban on artists who supported the People's Convention followed many protests on the subject.

The ban applied to Michael Redgrave, the film star; Miss Beatrix Lehmann, the actress; Mr Lew Stone, band leader, and many other well-known people.

Dr R. Vaughan Williams, the composer, withdrew a choral song as a protest after the B.B.C. banned the works of Dr Alun Bush, of the Royal Academy of Music.

Mr Churchill told the House of Commons recently that while it was no part of the Government's policy to accord the facilities of the microphone to persons whose words or actions might hamper the nation, the connection between these and musical performances was not apparent.

First Edition Of Keats Sold

In 1874 John Addington Symonds, the critic and poet, presented a copy of the first edition of Keats' "Endymion," 1818, to his bosom friend, Prof. A. C. Bradley. At Sothby's recently Mr Ernest Maggs gave £72 for it.

A rare survivor of St Jerome's "Lives of the Fathers," printed in 1493 at Westminster by Caxton's successor, "at Westminster," "Printer of the Court," brought £250. There was good bidding for books in two days, sale totalling nearly £23,000.

Wanted Rouge For 1977

Rouge and face powders are short in Britain. The hoarders know it, but what do they care!

A woman came in last week and demanded 36 boxes of a certain type of rouge, an assistant at a West End beauty counter told a reporter.

"I pointed out to her that each box would last her a year, and that what she was trying to buy was a 30 years' supply."

"That annoyed her. She seemed to think I was very impertinent to mention it."

"After all, when a box of rouge is going to last a minimum of twelve months it might be reasonable for a woman to ask for two boxes, or even three."

"But when they try to buy up a 30 years' supply..."

British Control Law Test

A Yale clinical professor of medicine, Silber Tlestone, filed suit recently in New Haven challenging the constitutionality of Connecticut's birth control ban.

He asked a declaratory judgment so he could prescribe for three women patients without fear of prosecution.

It was a matter of "life or death," he said, that these women be instructed in birth control practices.

Early last year, the court reversed lower court decision voiding the law. As a result, the Connecticut Birth Control League closed nine clinics and at the current session of the legislature supported a bill repealing the 70-year-old act.

POLAND'S AIMS FOR FUTURE

POLAND is looking ahead to the day when she can play her part in a reconstruction of Europe based on the ideas of justice and freedom, as opposed to the "new order" of Hitlerism.

This was the message, given by Poland's President, M. Raczewski, at Edinburgh University recently when he received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

In a brief outline of Poland's history before she was partitioned between Germany, Russia and Austria-Hungary, he told how she had always been a unifying force in Eastern Europe, linking up with and at times protecting her smaller neighbour States.

At one time even the Prussians aimed at union with Poland to free themselves from the Teutonic yoke.

"Geographical situation and history favoured voluntary unions of the nations situated between Russia and Germany," said M. Raczewski.

"The course of the past war again, after many bitter experiences, confirms the expediency of such unions."

YELLOW FEVER CARRIER

After months of scientific research in South America, the Rockefeller Foundation recently reported what was considered important progress in the fight on yellow fever.

Raymond B. Fosdick, president of the Foundation, said that institute scientists had come to the tentative conclusion that yellow fever was primarily a disease of jungle animals, transmitted to human beings by mosquitoes.

The animals, bitten by the mosquitoes, do not carry the virus for more than a few days, but it is then transmitted to other mosquitoes, which harbour it for the remainder of their lives.

New Species

The Foundation has also discovered two new mosquito species that carry yellow fever, in addition to the identified Aedes aegypti. The new species are known as the sabine and the haemagogus.

Dr Fosdick reported, too, that the Foundation had prepared more than 1,000,000 doses of yellow fever vaccine for the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, the U.S. Army and the U.S. Public Health Service.

Drury Lane Is Strangest Theatre In World To-day

The Theatre Royal, Drury Lane, is the strangest theatre in the world to-day. No play has been performed there since just before the war. The theatre is now the headquarters of ENSA, the organisation which has sent 53,000 shows to entertain the forces.

But the hustle and bustle and the telephones and temporary offices in every spare corner have not destroyed the unique atmosphere of "The Lane." In one room, called "Theatre Control," thirty columns of cards on the wall show the movement of shows for nine weeks ahead—revues in blue, plays in green, bands in yellow, and so on.

But this bare, yellow-discoloured room is Garrick's dressing room, and Edmund Kean's and Macready's and Irving's, and every leading male actor's at Drury Lane for the last 270 years.

Next door is "ladies' dressing room." This is the Green Room, where the actors met and talked with their friends, where bad-tempered Charles Macklin, the first man to play Shylock as a serious character, killed his brother actor, Hallam, in dispute about a wig—for which he was severely censured and suspended for three months.

Garrick's Mirror
On the wall is a big mirror in a dingy gilt frame, in which Garrick used to take a last look at himself before going on the stage.

In another little room now labelled "Publicity Office," and occupied by W. Macquenn Pope, whose family have been connected with Drury Lane since 1740, every leading lady from Sarah Siddons to Mary Clare has dressed.

The great auditorium is half-curtained off to hide the effects of a bomb which fell a few months ago. A young girl, one of dozens who come for auditions in the hope of joining ENSA shows, was singing to empty stalls covered with dustsheets. On her right was the box in which every King of England since Charles II. has sat.

From this box George II. waved the Duke of Cumberland's despatches that the Young Pretender had been beaten at Culloden Moor.

Royal Room An Office
The royal room behind the box is now an office. From it are controlled the munition factory entertainments.

The box-office is the contracts department, and the famous Rotunda, where George III. clouted his son, later George IV., in front of the assembled company, is a rehearsal room.

The long Regency bar is partitioned off into a long row of offices. "The Last Mile" they call it now.

The stalls bar, wrecked by the nosecone of the bomb, has been done up. Now it is the home of ENSA broadcasts. The staff bar is the air raid shelter.

The room where Sheridan wrote "The School for Scandal" is now, with its blitzed ceiling, ENSA's board room.

GERMANS TRY FOG SCREENS

Messages reaching New York from neutral sources in Berlin say that German armed manoeuvres recently involving extensive use of new types of smoke screens developed in the laboratories of the Reich Defence Council.

One form is said to be a grey sandy material, with particles of differing sizes stored in airtight containers. It can be strewn from planes and develops a heavy screen on contact with the oxygen in the air.

The larger particles fall farther than the smaller. It is thus possible to control the depth of the shielding cloud by varying the sizes.

Coloured Smoke

Another type, these reports state, is in the form of pellets which can also be dropped from planes. They give off smoke when they come in contact with water. Experiments have also been carried out with coloured smoke more blinding than the usual grey variety.

FLORAL SHAVING MUGS ARE BACK

Nobody would have believed it possible, but the time has come to drag grandfather's shaving mug from among dust and cobwebs in the attic and whisk it down to the barber shop.

Barbers in London report a shaving boom because of a shortage of razor blades. Old-time initialled shaving mugs are appearing on shelves. Girls welding electric razors have been recruited to help meet the rush.

"I've put out my barber's pole—the centuries-old badge of my trade," said one barber. "I'm back at the old business of shaving. Since the last war I don't suppose I've done more than 20 shaves a day on the average. Now my assistant and myself do about 50 in a morning."

WHAT CAUSES WARS

Sir Robert B. Greig, speaking recently at Stirling Rotary Club, said that unless we succeeded in getting over the difficulties of geographical boundaries, we were bound to have another war in 20 or 25 years time.

So long as geographical boundaries existed, when each little or large nation desired to maintain its prestige, desired to make itself wealthy at the expense of its neighbour, and had the backing of science, we were bound to have continual anarchy.

"Science will run away from us altogether, and we shall destroy civilization unless there is a controlling power, and the first controlling power should be that of the prevention of war, because without peace we cannot hope to make use of the enormous potential wealth which science offers us," he said.

"Therefore, unless we have a Federal Union which has an overriding government over and above national sovereignties, I do not see how we can prevent war."

Federal Union was a bigger thing than a mere matter of Government machinery, and if adopted by peace-loving nations would give undoubtedly a stimulus to the spiritual side of mankind, which would go a long way in hastening the development of civilization on the right lines.

BRITAIN HAS NO REGRETS

Daphne du Maurier, author of "Rebecca," broadcast to Canada and America recently on the spirit of Britain.

The occasion was the American and Canadian publication of her latest book, "Come Wind, Come Weather."

With Miss du Maurier at the microphone was Tom Osborne, a bombarded-out grocer from East Ham, and one of the characters in "Come Wind, Come Weather."

Britons don't hanker after the things that are gone, said Miss du Maurier. In spite of suffering and separation, the spirit of everybody in Britain is that the past is closed for ever, and they look to the future.

Royalties from "Come Wind, Come Weather," in Canada and Britain, will go to the Soldiers', Sailors' and Airmen's dependents.

DARING RESCUE IN AFRICA

Further details of the daring rescue of a British pilot from an enemy aerodrome by a colleague flying a single-seater fighter have been made known recently by the Air Ministry.

The incident occurred after Diredawa aerodrome, Abyssinia, had been attacked by a South African squadron, which destroyed at least 10 Italian planes.

The rescued pilot, a D.F.C. captain, said: "I was forced to land and was just going to set fire to my machine when I noticed another pilot of my flight firing at enemy troops to keep them away from me. I never dreamed he would land, for anti-aircraft guns were firing at him continuously."

"When I saw he had landed I ran as fast as I could and climbed on the plane, clinging to his shoulder as he taxied along, with the Italian firing at us all the time. Eventually we made a pretty good take-off."

All the rescuer would say was: "It wasn't very comfortable with two of us in the cockpit."

Stockings Go Gay In America

A NEW stocking fashion is sweeping America. Women by the thousand are wearing coloured peasant stockings. They are the last word in smartness.

The stockings are full length and are made in two varieties—one of wool for country and sportswear and the other of sheer silk for more dressy occasions. The colours are vivid and gay.

The silks are made in such shades as lemon yellow, deep lavender, bright pink and have matching gloves. They are worn for dancing and can be made by home knitters to blend with their dresses.

Many of the wool stockings are made in an open lace pattern which allows the stocking to fit the leg like a "glove." This eliminates the bulkiness of the old-fashioned wool stocking.

Flanders General Said Freed

Count de Brinon, Vichy's representative in Paris, is reported to have stated that Gen. Prioux, who commanded the 27th Army Corps and was a prisoner in Germany, has been released on parole by the German authorities.

Gen. Prioux's army, trapped in Flanders, after fighting a gallant rearguard action, made desperate efforts to cut a way through at Cassel, 20 miles south of Dunkirk. On May 20 the Germans claimed to have captured the general and his staff.

DUTCH TRICK ON GERMANS

A Dutch professor said his countrymen lunched two submarines after the Germans invaded Holland and this happened: One, carrying a Dutch crew and a few German officers, kept right on going at its launching until it reached England; The second carried a German crew to its death.

The story of the submarines, said Dr Peter de Bruyn, 31, of Leiden, Holland, was typical of the way the Dutch were resisting the German occupation.

Dr de Bruyn, who is now in America with his wife and two children, said the first submarine was nearly completed at Rotterdam shipyard when the Germans invaded the country.

The Germans told the shipyard to continue their work, he said, adding that when the vessel was completed the Germans put aboard a Dutch crew and a few Nazi officers.

"The sub kept right on going at the launching, to England," he said. "Our grapevine in Holland told us that the sub arrived safely."

Executed Workers

When the second submarine was finished a few months later, the Germans put an all-German crew aboard, he said, and declared:

"This submarine went down—to the bottom."

The Germans were reported by him to be so incensed that they arrested 80 engineers and ship workers and executed 18.

Dr de Bruyn is to teach neurology at the University of Chicago.

Found Expense Too Great

Officer's Letter

An officer who appeared at a court-martial at the Duke of York's Headquarters recently was said to have stated in a letter given to his commanding officer: "The mode of living in the company has been far too expensive for one who has to rely entirely on his army pay as a lieutenant."

The officer, Lieut William O'Reilly, payee, of the London Irish Rifles, was alleged to have applied a cheque for £35 received for the impress fund to his own use.

In evidence he said he had no intention of defrauding the fund. He was going to pay the money back from a legacy, but payment of the legacy had been held up because he had gone bankrupt some years ago. The court's findings were to be made known later.

ALASKA HIGHWAY SCHEME

Assurances of British Columbia's desire to co-operate in constructing an 1800-mile highway linking the United States and Alaska were given by Premier T. D. Pattullo of British Columbia to the Alaska International Highway Commission recently.

The highway would be used to transport supplies to U. S. military bases in Alaska.

The Commission, of which Representative Magnusson, Democrat, Washington, is chairman, went into a closed session to discuss possible routes and ways of financing the project, which would cost an estimated $25,000,000.

After both governments have agreed on the route and financing, a treaty would be drawn.

Members of the Commission said two general routes were under consideration. Each would extend to Fairbanks, Alaska, from the highway that now terminates at Fort St. James, B.C. One route would include Atlin and White Horse. Another would run through Finlay and Dawson.

BIGGEST BOMBER

The largest and most powerful bombing plane in the world, which has just been completed at a United States factory, is shortly to begin a trans-Atlantic test flight.

It is the 82-ton Douglas B 19 which is capable of operating across the Atlantic with a load of 18 tons of explosives.

The craft has accommodation for a crew of ten, has a cruising speed of 160 miles per hour, and could carry 125 men with equipment.

Canadian Wheat For China

A Toronto newspaper has announced that arrangements are under way to give the Chinese people 15,000 tons—about half a million bushels—of Canadian wheat.

While entirely sympathetic to such a suggestion, officials of the Dominion departments concerned are not very hopeful that such a gift can be delivered.

There are two obvious obstacles in the way—lack of ships in the Pacific and activity of the Japanese Navy.

The Chinese war relief committee was credited with having the scheme in hand.

NEW WAR TAXATION RATES FOR HONGKONG: ALLOWANCES RAISED Interest Tax To Be Introduced As Further Source of Revenue

AN INCREASE IN THE BASIC RATES OF ALL FIVE WAR TAXES—SALARIES, BUSINESS PROFITS, PROPERTY, CORPORATIONS PROFITS AND INTEREST—IS RECOMMENDED BY THE RECONSTITUTED WAR REVENUE COMMITTEE IN ITS REPORT PRESENTED TO THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL THIS AFTERNOON, AND INCLUDED IN A PROPOSED DRAFT ORDINANCE TO AMEND AND CONSOLIDATE THE WAR REVENUE ORDINANCES OF 1940.

It is recommended that the basic rates be set at 6 per cent and 12 per cent, as compared with the previous 5 per cent and 10 per cent. The Interest Tax, is of course, a new imposition and has been created for the purpose of taxing one broad source of unearned income at present untaxed—interest on loans and mortgages.

Ceaseless Action By The R.A.F. Enemy Aerodromes Smashed

CAIRO, May 28 (Reuters).—The bombing of Aleppo aerodrome in Syria and a successful series of raids on the enemy-occupied aerodrome at Malemi in Crete are the highlights of an official Middle East air communiqué.

BISMARCK LOSSES Total 2,000 Men

ZURICH, May 28 (Reuters).—Nearly 2,000 men were lost in the sinking of the German battleship Bismarck, according to an estimate reported by the Berlin correspondent of the "Basler Nachrichten," who observes that crews on German ships are bigger than on British.

Reconnaissance LONDON, May 28 (Reuters).—"It was a great hunt and we are eager and ready for more," states a message to the Admiralty from the Commander-in-Chief, Coastal Command, replying to a signal from the Admiralty gratefully acknowledging the part played by the Coastal Command in reconnaissance for the Bismarck. The signal from the Admiralty states that this reconnaissance contributed in a large measure to the successful outcome of the recent operation.

Tremendous Chinese Counter-Offensive

Special to the "Telegraph"
CHUNGKING, May 28 (UP).—A communiqué has been issued which states that while Chinese forces continue an unprecedented large-scale counter-offensive in North China, Chinese assaults are very intensive at Thinsui and Yangcheng, north and south respectively of the Chungliang Mountains as well as at Kaoping in south Shansi. The communiqué declared that the Chinese had been hitting hard from the north of Thinsui during the last five days and that Japanese dead and wounded were literally littered over the sun scorched vast battlefield. It was claimed that Japanese thrusts had been repeatedly repulsed in the region between Thinsui and Kaoping.

It is estimated that under the increased basic rates, and including revenue from the Interest Tax, the total revenue will be $12,200,000 a year instead of $11,000,000 at present estimated.

INCREASED ALLOWANCES

Another important recommendation is that, because of the rise in the cost of living some relief should be afforded to those payers of Salaries Tax who have wives and children. There, it is proposed that the allowances for families be revised and that in future the allowance for a wife should be $3,000 instead of $2,000 as at present, $2,000 for the first child, $1,000 for the second and $500 each for the third and fourth children, as compared with a flat rate of $1,000 for each child up to and including the fourth as at the present time.

LATEST H. E. Seeks 7% & 14% Increases

H.E. the Governor, in commenting on the War Taxation Committee's report, said:—
The laying of the report of the War Revenue Committee gives me an opportunity to address you briefly on a subject which, as correspondence in the local papers from time to time reveals, is on the minds of many others than myself. That subject is the adequacy or otherwise of Hongkong's war effort.

As you are well aware the economic side of the war is of paramount importance, and with that in view the people of the United Kingdom have accepted so heavy a weight of taxation and have so drastically restricted their consumption of all but the bare necessities of life that the standard of living there is now definitely lower than it was two years ago.

The essential parts of the Committee's report are as follows:

Terms of Reference
The Committee was reconstituted on January 23, 1941, by His Excellency Lieutenant-General E. F. Norton, Officer-Administering the Government, to re-examine and advise Government on the existing measures of War Taxation in the light of the Colony's present financial position and the actual receipts from the four taxes imposed by the War Revenue Ordinance.

Meetings and Procedure
Five meetings of the full Committee were held between March 5 and May 21, 1941. In addition to examining the War Revenue Ordinance, 1940, we were invited by His Excellency the Acting Governor to consider a draft Estate Duty Amendment Bill providing for higher rates of Estate Duty. We recommended the adoption of these new rates of Estate Duty, with the proviso that Government should reconsider them at the end of the war, and the Estate Duty Amendment Ordinance was passed by the Legislative Council on March 27, 1941, (Ordinance No. 7 of 1941).

Our examination of the existing measures of War Taxation was governed by three main considerations:—

(a) We were informed by the Financial Secretary that owing to defence measures which had been taken since the Budget for 1941-42 TURN to Back Page, Column 4

Heavy Nazi Losses

Price of Crete Invasion
SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"
CAIRO, May 28 (UP).—Official British military authorities are unable to confirm reports that the German losses on Crete total 18,000, although it is pointed out that this is equal to more than two air borne divisions. They said that it was absolutely impossible to ascertain the enemy's casualties on land although they admitted that it was heavy in proportion to the number employed, while the navy also inflicted serious losses.

One Of The 1941 War Methods

Novel indeed are some of the methods and tactics adopted in the present war. Here is something the British army learnt from the invasion of the Lowlands. Picture shows Guardsmen, armed with Tommy Guns attacking an "enemy" post during manoeuvres "somewhere in England."

Crete Forces Locked Together In Great Slogging Match

CAIRO, May 28 (Reuters).—Authoritative military circles summed up the Crete battle to-night as follows:
"It is continuing to develop as an intensive stand-up slogging match. The fighting is hard, particularly in the area between Canea and Malemi."

Hell Fire Pass Abandoned New Situation In North Africa

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"
CAIRO, May 28 (UP).—The situation in North Africa has taken a new turn, and British General Headquarters to-day issued a communiqué which states that Hell Fire Pass, near Tobruk, has been temporarily abandoned by Imperial troops.

It was at Hell Fire Pass where Graziani's army made its last attempt to withstand the British offensive, but the strategic situation was secured after a few days of intensive fighting following a brilliant movement by the attacking forces.

The same communiqué announces that fighting continues on the Egyptian side of the Libyan-Egyptian frontier.

The enemy has taken Halfaya Pass. Operations extend for about 15 miles south from the sea. The situation at Sollum is obscure.

Honours For African War Heroes

LONDON, May 28 (Reuters).—In recognition of the recent successful operations in East Africa, His Majesty the King has ordered the following promotions in and appointments of the Order of the Bath:

To Knights Commander—Lieut. General Alan Gordon Cunningham (brother of Admiral Sir Andrew Cunningham) and Major-General William Platt.

Schmelling Reported Killed

Trying To Escape In Crete
SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"
ALEXANDRIA, May 28 (UP).—Max Schmelling, former heavyweight boxing champion of the world, has been killed at Crete while attempting to escape from British soldiers who were escorting him to a prison camp, according to New Zealand sources.

Air Attacks On Cologne

Large Fires Started
SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"
LONDON, May 28 (UP).—It is authoritatively stated that industrial targets at Cologne were attacked last night. "Bursts were seen on important objectives and several large fires were started." Smaller forces attacked the docks at Boulogne.

Enemy Shipping Suffers: Convoy and Liner Sunk

LONDON, May 28 (Reuters).—Five armed trawlers were escorting a German supply ship of approximately 5,000 tons which was struck twice by heavy bombs dropped by an R.A.F. Coastal Command aircraft off Brest to-day.

The supply ship was left listing and settling down after the pilot of the British plane estimated that his second salvo "torpedoed" the ship below the water-line.

Kayoed Louis

Schmelling is the only boxer ever to have knocked out Joe Louis. Unfortunately for him this was in 1936, before Louis had gained his world crown from Joe Braddock. Schmelling, however, was world heavyweight champion in 1930, when he met Jack Sharkey and won on a foul. He held the title until 1932 when he met Sharkey again and lost on a fiercely protested decision.

In 1938, Schmelling again made his appearance in the United States, and in a disastrous fight with Joe Louis, he was knocked out in the first round. He was born in 1905, and first made himself known as a boxer in 1923 when he reached the final of one of the German Tournaments. He married Anny Ondra, German motion picture actress, in 1923. Most recent news of the German boxer was some time in September last year, when he was reported having been injured while training to be a parachutist.

Steady Toll

LONDON, May 28 (Reuters).—The steady toll which the Royal Navy is taking of enemy troops and supplies bound for the Western Desert theatre of war is augmented by the sinking of an 18,000-ton liner and other vessels, announced to-day's Admiralty communiqué.

In addition to the destroyer reported to in the communiqué of May 23, this communiqué also stated that a troopship of about 9,000 tons, a 7,000-ton tanker, and a very large ammunition ship, had been sunk, while a smaller merchant ship had been shelled and hit several times.

A Zoological Monstrosity

Hillier Described. LONDON, May 28 (Reuter).—Hitler is a zoological monstrosity according to Professor Gerbrandt, Prime Minister of the Netherlands. "Inspires only loathing and disgust because it clutches with diabolical hands at the tree of life planted in our Christian civilisation."

Excessively Valiant Japanese Soldier Will Get Quick Promotion

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH". TOKYO, May 28 (Reuter).—Following recent changes in Army promotion regulations providing for two-grade elevations of meritorious officers, revised regulations governing the appointment of lower Army officers are being promulgated on May 29. Non-commissioned officers including Sergeants, may be accorded officer commission immediately when their excessively valiant deeds in the face of enemy are commended by Commander before the whole forces, or when the War Minister proclaims them as model soldiers to the whole Army. Similar distinguished treatment will be given to those who have made exceptionally brilliant contributions toward military matters. When cadets or non-commissioned officers have achieved such distinguished services the new regulations enable them to be promoted at once to the rank of Lieutenant instead of Sub-Lieutenant as hitherto. Superior Privates may be appointed Sergeant without serving as Corporal, according to the distinguished service regulations.

Reactions To Roosevelt Vary: Convoy Issue To Be Explained

ZURICH, May 28 (Reuter).—The first press comments show keen disappointment over President Roosevelt's speech which, according to the "Basler Nachrichten," added nothing to what he had already said before. "If America has decided to enter the war, it is difficult to understand why she does not fulfil this decision in the hour of the greatest need of her Anglo-Saxon friend," says the paper. The paper assumes that American public opinion is still unprepared. The article adds: "The declaration of a state of emergency in the United States means delay rather than hastening of the Americans' entry into the war because it shows that President Roosevelt expects a long transition period. Therefore, he obtained powers which, as C-in-C, he would automatically acquire if war were declared."

Freedom of Seas. CANBERRA, May 28 (Reuter).—President Roosevelt's insistence on the "freedom of the seas" in his momentous speech is regarded in authoritative Federal circles as having tremendous significance. It is believed that this reference, coupled with the proclamation of a state of unlimited national emergency, will lead to abandonment of the previously proclaimed defence zones, to much wider use of American ships in the areas from which they hitherto have been debarred and to unhesitating use of force in resisting any attack on them.

Conference. WASHINGTON, May 28 (Reuter).—President Roosevelt is to hold a special press conference late this afternoon, at which he is expected to clear up the question of convoys. Mr. Stephen Early, the President's Secretary, announced this morning. When told by reporters that the President's speech had left some confusion as regards the convoy issue, he replied: "I think he will clear that up this afternoon and I would rather that he did it."

Indian War Measures. MADRAS, May 28 (Reuter).—The present emergency has increased the risk of sabotage, illicit possession and sale of explosives and heightens the risk of sabotage to mines and industrial plants," says a Press note issued by the Provincial Government, announcing penalties for illegally manufacturing, possessing and using explosive in such areas. The penalty extends to imprisonment for five years or if there is intention to assist any state warring with His Majesty, to death, transportation for life or imprisonment up to ten years in addition to a fine.

Anglo-Russian Status Obscure. EDEN AGAIN QUESTIONED. LONDON, May 28 (Reuter).—Mr. Anthony Eden, the Foreign Secretary, was only able to give a formal reply in the House of Commons to-day to a question about Anglo-Russian relations. He was asked when the British Ambassador, Sir Stafford Cripps, had had an interview with M. Stalin and whether any assurances were sought or given regarding Soviet intentions in the Near East. Mr. Eden said that while Sir Stafford had maintained regular contact with the Soviet Government, he had not recently had an interview with M. Stalin. "With regard to the second part of the question, I am not in a position to make any statement."

Japanese Stock Market. SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH". TOKYO, May 28 (Domel).—The Stock market turned irregular as most traders after a careful study of the full text of the President's speech adopted a cautious attitude. Silk and cotton markets also reacted favourably to the President's speech but the underlying sentiment was not too optimistic.

London Opinion. LONDON, May 28 (Reuter).—"President Roosevelt has cleared the decks for action," said a London spokesman. The President's declaration of the freedom of the seas, is interpreted here as fresh evidence of the President's unusual political astuteness. At the time of the controversy over material aid for Britain, President Roosevelt cut the Gordian knot by the simple solution of the Lease and Lend Bill. To-day he has done a similar thing on the specific and possibly controversial matter of convoys—he has proclaimed the freedom and fundamental policy of freedom of the seas and this embraces everything in this respect.

U.S. Newspapers. WASHINGTON, May 28 (Reuter).—"That the nation has been doubly stirred by Roosevelt's speech is obvious from the favourable comment continuing to pour in from all over the country. "P.M." on its front page proclaims: "our conclusion. We are in it." The "New York Post" with huge black streamers, says: "The President has spoken our will to act without further notice to safeguard Dakar, Azores and Cape Verde."

Renewed Faith. Governor Lehmann of New York said: "The speech will bring renewed faith and strength to those bravely fighting to preserve their own freedom and the liberties of those other countries who still remain free." The "New York Sun," with a streamer, says: "The United States, on emergency basis, is committed to stop the Axis."

Verge of War. TOKYO, May 28 (Reuter).—"On the verge of war" is the heading of a leading article in the "Japan Times and Advertiser" on President Roosevelt's speech. It says that there is no shadow or sign of neutrality in the speech but rather a determined stand against Hitler even to a promise to challenge German rights in British waters. "The last vestiges of neutrality have been stripped from the United States, not by any desire of the people as expressed in the Neutrality Act but by the acts and words of the President."

British Raid On Tunisia. SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH". VICHY, May 28 (UP).—It is officially stated that British planes bombed Sfax in Tunisia, this morning. The French spokesman asserted that the Government was unable to understand the reason for this act, as Sfax which is the principal market city on the Tunisian east coast, has no fortifications and no naval or air base. An official report from Beirut says the French shot down a British Glenn Martin bomber at 10.30 a.m. during a raid on the Neral airfield near Aleppo.

The German Officer To-day

FOE WORTH BEATING

By MAJOR E. W. SHEPPARD

TO-DAY German officers are all over Europe, some in uniform, some disguised as technicians, tourists or advisers.

In the last war we all had a picture in our minds of the typical German officer—straight backed, stiff as a ramrod in his tight-fitting uniform and greatcoat, monocled, haughty, arrogant.

His mind was of a piece with his appearance. He knew his job, and little else besides.

He had a high sense of duty, a tremendous sense of caste and calling, and a queer code of honour to which he was utterly faithful.

That code enjoined on him a contempt for money and graft, a strict performance of duty, a meticulous knowledge of his profession and a ban on anything which might lower his own personal prestige as an officer, that of the German officer class, or that of the German Army.

More Human, But

I wonder if he is the same to-day? His outward appearance has, of course, changed. So I think to some extent has his mental outlook.

He is more human, more approachable, more among his men, more at ease with them. He has learnt that from the French.

He goes in more for sport and tries, not always with success, to cultivate in himself and his troops a sense of humour. He learnt that from us.

And he has learnt all about the new weapons of war—the tanks, the aeroplanes, the motorised arms, the parachutists.

He learnt that, too, from other people—much of it from the despised Russians.

Has he lost his sense of religion? I fancy so, and I think he is the worse man for it.

New Weaknesses

I fancy, too, he has lost something of his strict sense of honour. He is the worse man for that, too, in my view.

But his sense of duty is as high as ever. He still firmly believes in himself, in the class to which he belongs, in the army of which he is the chief ornament.

And he still believes in Germany, too—though not necessarily in Nazism or in Hitler.

He is a formidable fellow, this German officer of to-day.

One may respect him, though hardly like him. He is a foe worth beating, and one whom it will take us a lot of trouble to beat.

But he can be beaten—and he will be, as he has been before.

And all the more certainly because he now has weaknesses foreign to his forefathers.

Iron Weather Man In the Pacific

By Thomas R. Henry

On an isolated, uninhabited island in the Mid-Pacific the U.S. Navy's first iron sentry soon will mount guard—perhaps as the forerunner of an army of robots with copper brains to form cordons around the poles and walk posts across the seas.

The iron sentry will report every six hours. This first private of the robot army is being built, according to navy's specifications, by a commercial firm.

The model after which he is being constructed has been on duty for a year at the naval air station at Anacostia, D.C. During this time he never has been caught napping, and has required little attention. Four times daily he has looked around, made his observations, and radioed his reports, which are received reliably at distances of at least 200 miles from Washington.

His reports consist of the barometric pressure, the air temperature, the humidity, the force and direction of the wind, and the amount of rainfall. Each of these is recorded accurately on the copper brain and transformed immediately into radio impulses.

The worse the weather the better he likes it. His life blood is the wind, which constantly recharges the storage batteries, through a windmill on his head, which keep his brain in operation.

The robot was constructed by Dr. Harry Diamond and his associates at the U. S. Bureau of Standards in co-operation with navy officers. The things he does now are only an indication of what he may be able to do as he grows up in the service, navy officers say. One of the jobs already forecast for him is to drift about in the Atlantic, keeping ships, land stations and planes informed of the weather ahead.

The robot was first proposed by Dr. Willis Gregg, late chief of the U. S. Weather Bureau, at a meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in Ottawa in 1938. At that time, it was considered a futuristic dream.

Dr. Gregg wanted these robots set up in a continuous sentry line around the Arctic Circle and over the interior of Greenland to keep the world informed of tempests striking southward from the North Pole.

The idea of robot weather observers, according to Dr. Diamond, originated in Russia about 10 years ago. The Russian device was crude, but quickly became practical in the hands of the Bureau of Standards physicists.

The final result was the radio-sent, sent aloft in a balloon to altitudes of nearly 30 miles to report by radio on conditions in the upper atmosphere, on which so much of the world's weather depends. These were all suicide flights at first. Now many of the radios are being recovered and put into service again.

The robot being put into service by the navy is a direct development from the radiosent. But whereas the former weighed less than a pound, this new iron brain weighs more than a ton, is built to operate indefinitely, and to withstand any sort of conditions.

In appearance the sentry of the storms will be a thoroughly unromantic fellow—merely a wooden box about eight feet square, with a windmill and some antennae on top. That is only the skin of the iron man.

CHIEFTAIN CATRIONA WINS 5-YEAR FIGHT

Twenty-one-year-old Miss Catriona Maclean of Ardgour, daughter of the former chieftain of the Clan Maclean, has won her five-year fight for the right to use her father's arms.

Her right had been challenged by Lieut-Commander Henry Hugh Maclean, a cousin of the late Ardgour twice removed, who claimed that as heir-male, he was head of the family of Ardgour.

In the Lyon Court, the Lord Lyon King of Arms had disallowed his claim in favour of Catriona, and the Second Division of the Court of Session of Edinburgh recently affirmed that judgment.

Miss Catriona Maclean

The Lord Justice Clerk pointed out that the commander did not possess a rood of ancestral land, and said the idea that a woman could not represent a heraldic bearing family appeared to him to be a medieval notion, appropriate perhaps to the ages of savagery, but having no relation to the realities of the modern world.

AMERICA DECLARES HERSELF

SOLEMNLY, President Roosevelt yesterday issued a warning to Herr Hitler as grave and purposeful as that delivered to Germany by President Wilson 24 years ago. In language, pregnant with meaning, the leader of the United States flung out his answer to the Fuehrer's challenge for world domination, giving added weight to his words by simultaneously proclaiming that a state of unlimited national emergency existed, and calling upon the entire nation to labour ceaselessly and willingly to prevent the disaster with which the Nazis and their cohorts threaten the universe.

As generally anticipated, many of the sentiments expressed by Mr. Roosevelt were reiterated, but he also announced two important new features of United States policy vis-a-vis the European War which are bound to have far-reaching effects on its future development.

Without in as many words openly committing the U.S. to the employment of armed convoys for the conveying of vital war materials to Britain and the other democracies, the President referred with approval to the effectiveness of this system in the last World War, and added, with profound significance: "The blunt truth is that the present rate of Nazi sinkings of merchantmen is more than three times as high as the British replacement capacity, and more than twice the combined British and American output of merchantmen to-day. We can answer this peril by speeding up and increasing our great shipbuilding programme, and secondly by helping to cut down the losses on the high seas." It is doubtful whether any other sentence in the entire speech will ring so unpleasantly in Hitler's ears.

And if the Nazi leader is still capable of absorbing realistic facts in his perverted mind, surely Mr. Roosevelt's announcement that the United States already has taken, and will continue to take adequate steps to safeguard the nation's vital outposts, must give him cause to ponder. It means that the United States is now prepared to translate warnings into actions; the velvet glove of diplomatic conciliation is off; the iron hand of an implacable foe is exposed. Hitler stands warned by the great champion of the democracies.

The fact that Mr. Roosevelt's speech was directed essentially to Hitler does not mean that his challenging statements were intended to remain unheeded in other parts of the globe. Japan was clearly invited to ponder the President's words and to appreciate the meaning behind his tribute to the "magnificent defence of China."

In short, the entire world to-day now knows where America stands in relation to the conflict which is raging on three continents, and which is threatening a fourth. Unflinchingly, and with the aid of every resource at her disposal, the United States will defy and combat the Totalitarians, even if, in the final analysis, it involves her, like Britain and the other democracies, in total war.

FLEET AIR ARM PROVES STRENGTH AGAIN IN SINKING OF BISMARCK

These official Admiralty pictures show how the Fleet Air Arm operates from an aircraft carrier. Here a plane has just come up through the well and is having its wings spread.

These are Blackburn Skua dive-bombers assembled on the deck of the carrier. They are ready to take off to attack the enemy.

An aircraft flying off to take part in the attack.

Return after a successful operation. Signals guide the landing on the aircraft carrier.

Details of the sinking of the giant Nazi battleship, Bismarck, as issued by the Admiralty and published in the "Telegraph" yesterday, have thrilled all Hongkong just as the news has excited the imagination of people all over the world.

The communique makes mention of the big part which aircraft of the Fleet Air Arm played in running down and shattering the enemy battleship. In the determined pursuit of the Bismarck by British naval forces seeking to avenge the chance sinking of H.M.S. Hood, the first blows were struck by naval torpedo aircraft from the aircraft carrier, Victorious. Subsequently, torpedo aircraft from the Ark Royal also attacked the Bismarck by the same means.

These successful attacks caused damage to the Nazi battleship and slowed it down, paving the way for its eventual dispatch to the depths by the surface battle fleet.

The Fleet Air Arm has by this latest exploit proved once again its strength and the effectiveness of aerial torpedo attack. The first success secured by use of this method of warfare was at Taranto, when Mussolini's much-vaunted battle fleet was cut to pieces.

The development of flying for war purposes originated in the British Navy. Its earliest pioneers, who included Admiral Sir Cecil Talbot, now Director of Dockyards, and Sir Archibald Cochrane, until recently Governor of Burma, were submarine officers who understood the effectiveness of the torpedo as a weapon. During the past few years, and especially since the outbreak of the present war, this branch of the fighting services has been brought to a high pitch of efficiency.

The Fleet Air Arm is served by many types of aircraft, including dive-bombers and fighters, but the torpedo plane remains the speciality. One of the most striking features of this method of warfare is that it is designed with a single eye to hitting the target with precision. Should the torpedoes, or the dive-bombers' bombs, miss their mark, civilians do not suffer, as British and other European civilian populations suffer so cruelly at the hands of German pilots. The Navy, true to its tradition, strikes fiercely at its enemy's armed forces, but spares non-combatants.—A. C. G.

4 NAVY CHIEFS

ERICH RAEDER, Commander-in-Chief of the Nazi Navy. His rank, Grand Admiral; his age, sixty-four; his reputation, shrewd, capable sailor, a martinet in discipline.

Raeder

He knows what it is to be at the receiving end of the Royal Navy's merciless artillery. He was in the Lutzow at Jutland when she was pounded by the gunfire of our big ships, but Raeder escaped.

His chief amusements are listening to music—particularly Furtwangler's—and watching football. His chief abominations, women's short hair, short skirts, cosmetics and cigarettes. Best saying: "We do not underestimate England's strength."

VICE-ADMIRAL J. C. TOVEY, Commander-in-Chief of the Home Fleet, has shown himself markedly dissimilar from his opposite number. He has been making no vaunting speeches, telling the world, like the prize-fighter of old, just what he plans to do.

Jack Tovey has done a great part of sailing in destroyers. In the Onslow, destroyer, at Jutland he stood in to the cruiser Wiesbaden and hit her again and again with his small guns. His craft disabled, he had a crack at the Derfflinger, a capital ship, and finally had to be taken in tow. All this won him a D.S.O. Kipling wrote a story about it.

Is said to be just the man to throw everything at the Germans when the right time comes.

Tovey (pronounced Tuvvy) is sixty, and in vigour a young man. The Navy is a man respects him. Best saying: "Tovey doesn't talk."

Total Warfare means Total Sacrifice

MERE WORDS FAIL to emphasise the gravity of the great fight against brutality and oppression, in which we are so seriously engaged. The hordes of Hitler are desperate in their fiendish desire to obliterate the British Empire, and all that it stands for. It is total warfare. Total in the sense that not only are our gallant sailors, soldiers and airmen involved, but civilians as well.

ALREADY THE TOLL of lives amongst the civilian population of the British Isles, is heavy. Already, innocent children are being maimed and blinded. The scene is poignantly grim. Our folk who are in the midst of the holocaust come up smiling after every onslaught—even though they have tears in their eyes and anguish in their hearts. They are Undaunted! Unconquerable!

THEY ARE ENCOURAGED by the great help they are receiving from their kindred nations overseas. In common with the rest of the Empire, Hongkong is helping. Nearly a year ago, the Bomber Fund was started, and thanks to the generosity and the sacrifice of many, over two million dollars have now been subscribed and placed at the disposal of the British Government for the purchase of bombers—so urgently needed to avenge the innocents who have fallen, and to smash the German war machine.

HONGKONG is doing well, but can do still better. There have been magnificent contributions to the Bomber Fund, and there has been great sacrifice on the part of some who have given again and again. Let it be remembered however, that the two million dollars would not have been recorded but for the humble gifts from those who could afford no more.

THIS COLONY enjoys the blessing of peace, but that blessing should serve to stimulate and quicken the desire to give to the greatest cause of all time. Our people at Home know what total warfare means. Let them know that the people of Hongkong understand what total giving means.

ANY OVERT ACT WILL BRING THE UNITED STATES INTO THE WAR

Special to the "Telegraph"

WASHINGTON, MAY 28 (UP).—THE SCRIPPS-HOWARD COLUMNIST, MR WILLIAM SIMMS WRITES TO-DAY THAT "FOREIGN ENVOYS HERE HAVE WARNED THEIR GOVERNMENTS THAT THE UNITED STATES IS AWAITING ONLY AN OVERT ACT BY THE AXIS TO ENTER THE WAR." THAT IS THE INTERPRETATION ON THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS AND PROCLAMATION.

The fact that President Roosevelt acquainted Congressional leaders beforehand with what he intended to say made his pronouncements as coming as close to a war declaration as the President is able to go. The United States policy is described as a clear ultimatum which, in effect, is what the speech could be called, without great exaggeration.

Columnist Raymond Clapper stated, "America has changed overnight. Without action by Congress or any mention thereof, President Roosevelt assumed new powers. The President placed himself in a position to begin an undeclared war, or rather unannounced fighting against the Axis when his judgment calls for it. This is, in effect, an executive declaration that a state of war exists."

Almost Undeclared War
WASHINGTON, May 28 (UP).—President Roosevelt has led the nation near to the limits of an undeclared war if he is prepared to implement his unlimited emergency proclamation. A special press conference is scheduled for to-day in order to elaborate and explain the message.

The President said last night that strikes and lock-outs must cease abruptly in order to enlarge the scope of the Aid-to-Britain programme, and this supported by bristling threats to deliver war materials to the fighting men with armed force. The pledge went far beyond convoys which the Administration considers obsolescent. The speech aroused a national clamour of applause despite Representative Melvin Mass saying, "This means war." Senator Tom Connally declared that it was a "ringing call to duty and service for all Americans."

Senator Robert Taft asserted, "The declaration of an unlimited national emergency has no legal effect whatsoever. The President has no statutory or constitutional authority to declare such an emergency."

Very "Encouraging"

Senator Carter Glass, "I agreed with every word and more besides." Speaker Sam Rayburn of the House stated, "It will be very encouraging for the democratic peoples throughout the world." Senator Walter George said, "It was a very strong statement of the Administration's basic philosophy."

Representative Hamilton Fish thought it was "just up to the interventionists."

Senator Gerald Nye asserted, "The President gives notice that we are already conveying."

Senator Pat McCarran declared, "I think it is another way of declaring war."

Senator Robert Wagner was of the opinion that "President Roosevelt has firmly accepted and courageously exercised the great responsibility invested in him by the American people in an unparalleled world crisis."

Senator Wheeler's Reactions

INDIANAPOLIS, May 28 (UP).—Senator Burton Wheeler, regarding President Roosevelt's fireside speech declared "It was a virtual declaration of war. The President talks about hard cold facts but one in America has tried to create fear in the minds of the American people more than President Roosevelt since March, 1933. I do not know what the President means by declaring an emergency. What more powers can he take than what he already has, unless he has taken over labour, industry, communications and the press?"

Wavell's Abyssinian Campaign Vindicated

LONDON, May 28 (Reuter).—General Sir Archibald Wavell's strategy in completing the conquest of the Italian East African empire when distractions were afoot further north was vindicated in the House of Lords to-day by Field Marshal Lord Birdwood and the Under-Secretary for War, Lord Croft.

Lord Birdwood, who is often called the "Father of the Indian Army," said that he had an uncomfortable feeling that unwittingly, full justice had not been done to the magnificent work of the officers and men from India, Dominions and the colonies in the East African campaign.

Lord Birdwood said that the majority of troops were from South Africa and India, and practically every African colony was represented.

It was certain that Hitler ordered his subordinate, the Duke of Aosta, to contain the British troops as long as possible in Abyssinia to use up their large supplies. A feature of the campaign, however, was the extreme rapidity with which the operations were carried through.

Praise For Troops
Referring to the mines and demolitions left by the retreating Italians, Lord Birdwood said, "No troops could have done better than my

Selangor Rubber Strike

Indian Agitation

LONDON, May 28 (Reuter).—The recent rubber strike at Selangor was raised at question time in the House of Commons to-day.

Mr G. H. Hall, Under-Secretary for the Colonies, declared that some 7,000 strikes were involved in serious strikes early in May and that the High Commissioner had reported considerable intimidation by the bands of strikers and five deaths in the disturbances between May 10 and May 15.

The High Commissioner had informed Lord Moyne, Secretary for the Colonies, that there was no justification for the strike and that wages of Indian estate workers in the rubber industry were at present higher than ever before and included cost of living allowance.

The district concerned had been subjected to considerable propaganda by adherents of the Central Indian Association of Malaya.

Subversive Propaganda

The High Commissioner had informed Lord Moyne that there was clear evidence of subversive propaganda by one of these persons who was arrested on May 5 with the view to banishment.

The High Commissioner is actively concerning himself with a full and sympathetic examination of any grievances which the workers may advance.

Mr Sorensen suggested fuller investigations on the ground that "there must be something other than subversive grounds."

Mr Hall said that the High Commissioner was making a fuller investigation and that the Government was awaiting his report.

Working All Day On Military Supplies Order

Before Mr H. G. Sheldon, K.C., at Central Magistracy this morning, the Bat Tat Weaving Company of No 101 Belcher's Street, Kennedy Town, were fined $100 for allowing 17 women to work on the premises at 1.45 a.m. on May 4.

The Manager of the firm, Mr Ip Kim-chuen, stated that they were engaged on some work for the military authorities which entailed working 24-hours a day.

Year-Old Canton Killing Brings Indian To Trial

Charged with the murder of a Chinese in Canton on May 12 last year, an Indian guard, Dost Mohamed, appeared before the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, at the Criminal Sessions this morning, and pleaded not guilty.

Mr E. H. Williams, Crown Counsel, prosecuted, and Mr Harold W. Lee, instructed by Mr D. McCallum, appeared for Accused.

Accused was originally charged with the murder of an unknown Chinese, but Mr Williams asked leave to amend the charge and to substitute the name of Kwok Man for the word "unknown."

Mr Lee objected to the amendment, saying that it would embarrass the defence.

His Lordship remarked that he did not think the amendment was prejudicial to the defence, and allowed the amendment.

The following jury was empanelled: Messrs C. Fonseca (foreman), Leung Hew-fung, Chan Woon-fun, Young Kee-hung, Tsui Shang-luen, M. A. Frata and Leung Kam-long.

Mr Williams said that Accused was a watchman employed by the China Navigation Company at their wharves at Kait Hui-hok in Honan, Canton, and the murder occurred on May 22 last year, when accused allegedly shot Kwok Man.

Court's Jurisdiction

Explaining how the Accused came to be tried in Hongkong, Mr Williams said that by a treaty between Great Britain and China, Great Britain had jurisdiction over her subjects when they commit a crime in China. The Foreign Jurisdiction Act laid down the proceedings for the trial of British subjects who commit offences in countries like China and elsewhere. Section 6 of that Act made provision for the British authorities in China or any other country to send a person for trial to any British possession. In 1925, an Order-in-Council was passed stating that His Majesty's Supreme Court in China might send a case for trial to a British possession.

Accused, Counsel continued, was a native of Punjab, India, and was registered as a British subject. Deceased was a hawkler. At the time of the incident, the steamer Fatshan was lying by a wharf on which Accused and another Indian guard, Sher Bahadur, were stationed. Their duty was to search all persons entering the wharf to board the steamer. Behind the wharf were a row of godowns, and lying alongside a small landing pier were three cargo boats.

Incident At Godowns

Evidence would be given by Lam Ping, a godown keeper, who was standing by one of the godowns. He would say that about 6.20 p.m. on May 22, he saw two Indian guards standing at the entrance to the wharf searching people going on to it. He saw a Chinese carrying a basket approach the wharf, and the man was stopped by Accused. A conversation took place between them. Lam then saw Accused strike the Chinese with his fist, and the other Indian hit him with a stick. The Chinese dropped the basket and ran away, followed closely by Accused and Sher Bahadur. Lam would say that at no time was any attempt made to search the basket. Outside one of the godowns were a number of Chinese. The Indians and the man they were chasing were lost to Lam's view, but shortly afterwards, he heard the sound of two shots, followed a little later by three more shots.

Sher Bahadur would say that several Chinese approached the wharf and resented the searching. One of them struck Accused in the face. The Chinese appeared to be angry, but Sher Bahadur said that he did not see clearly what happened after that. Accused ran after a Chinese, and shortly after, Sher Bahadur heard a shot being fired and saw Accused with a revolver in his hand. The Chinese he was chasing was lying on the ground. There was a crowd of Chinese about in an angry mood. Accused showed signs of having been in a struggle.

Struggle On Lighter

Stories told by three other witnesses differed substantially from that told by Sher Bahadur, said Counsel. One of them, Chan Fung-po, said that his attention was attracted by the two Indians, who were chasing and fighting with a Chinese. The Chinese broke away and ran on to a lighter. Accused followed and fired two shots, which apparently missed. The Chinese grabbed a long pole and pointed it at Accused, and a struggle took place between them. Accused fired three more shots, and the Chinese collapsed.

That story was corroborated by three other persons—Tong Shao-hong, Wu Hu-kia and Chan Chok. Another witness would say that he saw Sher Bahadur with a revolver in his hand, and he seized it from him.

Accused was taken to the wharf office and Mr Johnson, the Wharf Superintendent, was sent for. On arrival, Mr Johnson saw a Chinese lying on a lighter, and the man was dead. There was a wound in the head, behind the left ear. When he made his way to the office, Mr Johnson saw Sher Bahadur with a revolver in his hand, and disarmed him.

Weapons Examined

At the office, he took away Accused's revolver, and the revolver of

Big Gambling School Broken Up By Police

The names of 36 persons, charged with gambling, were read out before Mr G. T. Lowry at Central Magistrate's Court this morning. Of the 36 persons only one man was in Court. He was Ng Yat, 52, unemployed, and was detained by the Police yesterday when he failed to put up bail of $250, for keeping a gambling house.

Two other men, Tong Hop, 28, unemployed, who was on bail of $500, and Mak Yin, 32, unemployed, on bail of $250, also charged with keeping a gambling house, failed to appear in Court and their bail was estreated. Bail of $10 each put up by the other men was estreated.

Ng Yat, pleaded guilty, and was fined $100 or two months' hard labour.

A sum of $309.53 picked up was ordered to be confiscated.

Philippines Trans-shipment Watched

Against Axis Ruses

SHANGHAI, May 29 (Reuter).—Regulations against the re-export of American goods from the Philippines to foreign countries have been tightened up by a new ruling which requires an application for new export licences before such re-exports can be legally made, according to an American Consulate-General announcement.

The new applications must be presented to the United States Department of State and must name the proposed countries of ultimate destination.

Re-Export Permits
Unless such applications are granted, re-export of American goods from the Philippines would constitute a violation of the Export Control Act and regulations, adds the announcement.

The new ruling is believed to be specially designed against the ruse whereby goods exported from the United States to the Philippines are re-shipped from the latter point to Russia and thence to Germany.

First Edition Of Keats Sold

In 1874 John Addington Symonds, the critic and poet, presented a copy of the first edition of Keats' "Endymion," 1818, to his kinsman, Prof. A. C. Bradley. At Sotheby's recently Mr Ernest Maggs gave £72 for it.

A rare survivor of St Jerome's "Lives of the Fathers," printed in 1495 at Westminster by Caxton's successor at Westminster, Wynkyn de Worde, brought £20. There was good bidding for books in a two days' sale totalling nearly £3,000.

Axis Shipping Losses Since War Began

LONDON, May 28 (British Wireless).—Nearly 3,000,000 tons of enemy merchant shipping have been disposed of between the beginning of the war and the middle of May, it is stated authoritatively in London.

German ships captured or seized—61, totalling 274,000 tons; sunk or scuttled, 285 ships, totalling 1,499,000.

Italian ships captured or seized—30, totalling 183,000 tons; sunk or scuttled, 176 ships, totalling 869,000 tons.

Germany has, therefore, lost 346 ships totalling 1,773,000 tons and Italy 215 ships, totalling 1,082,000 tons.

In addition, 38 ships of other countries, in Axis service, totalling 67,000 tons, have been disposed of.

Japanese Deficiency In Science

Gout Stimulation Not Likely To Succeed

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

TOKYO, May 28 (Domel).—The Government programme for accelerating progress in the scientific and technical branches as an essential in the construction of national defence, was hailed by newspapers including the "Kokumin" and the "Yomiuri" this morning.

"Better late than never," these papers declare. Scientific and technical facilities in Japan are below world levels, these papers point out, blaming Japanese politicians' ignorance of and indifference to scientific matters for the situation.

Warning scientists and technicians against their excessive academic attitude, these papers urge the students of science and technical skill to turn their abilities to State purposes.

Total Scientific Spirit

The "Kokumin Shimbun" says that the Japanese spirit has never been "unscientific" as many believe. This spirit must be made "more scientific" because a total war cannot be waged without the nation being armed with a scientific spirit.

While endorsing the proposed "new structure of scientific skill," the "Yomiuri Shimbun" is sceptical whether the proposed facilities for researches in science and technical skill will be realised. So many new Government offices have been created since the outbreak of the China campaign and yet these have failed to achieve their original aims, the paper warns.

IF AXIS START SHOOTING

U.S. "Task Forces" Will Reply

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

WASHINGTON, May 28 (UP).—Informed quarters to-day interpreted President Roosevelt's assurance that Britain would receive war goods as a signal for extended United States naval operations on the Atlantic, probably by "task forces," especially designed to meet the Axis threat.

They were of the opinion that these would probably be composed of battleships, aircraft carriers, destroyers and submarines, and it was predicted that they would operate similar to the British squadrons which sought the Bismarck.

Some sources stated that the initiative for shooting in open sea warfare will be left to the Axis.

If the Axis decline to fight, vastly superior forces, the goods will be delivered without shooting but, they observed, if an attack was made, then the United States would be unable to insure delivery of the goods without returning the fire.

TRAIN FIRE TRAGEDY RECALLED

LONDON, May 28 (Reuter).—A verdict of accidental death was returned at the inquest to-day on the victims of a fire on a train in which boys from Ampleforth College, a Catholic school, including two sons of the Belgian Prime Minister, M. Hubert Pierlot, lost their lives.

The coroner said that he had come to the conclusion that the fire started through lighted matches and cigarette ends being thrown about in fun and mischief by the boys, but he did not attach blame to any of them.

POLAND'S AIMS FOR FUTURE

POLAND is looking ahead to the day when she can play her part in a reconstruction of Europe based on the ideas of justice and freedom, as opposed to the "new order" of Hitlerism.

This was the message given by Poland's President, M. Raczewicz, at Edinburgh University recently when he received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

In a brief outline of Poland's history before she was partitioned between Germany, Russia and Austria-Hungary, he told how she had always been a unifying force in Eastern Europe, linking up with and at times protecting her smaller neighbour States.

At one time even the Prussians aimed at union with Poland "to free themselves from the Teutonic yoke."

"Geographical situation and history favoured voluntary unions of the nations situated between Russia and Germany," said M. Raczewicz.

"The course of the present war, again, after many bitter experiences, confirms the expediency of such unions."

YELLOW FEVER CARRIER

After months of scientific research in South America, the Rockefeller Foundation recently reported what was considered important progress in the fight on yellow fever.

Raymond B. Fosdick, president of the Foundation, said that institute scientists had come to the tentative conclusion that yellow fever was primarily a disease of jungle animals, transmitted to human beings by mosquitoes.

The animals, bitten by the mosquitoes, do not carry the virus for more than a few days, but it is then transmitted to other mosquitoes, which harbour it for the remainder of their lives.

New Species

The Foundation has also discovered two new mosquito species that carry yellow fever, in addition to the identified Aedes aegypti. The new species are known as the sabine and the lucanagosa.

Dr Fosdick reported, too, that the Foundation had prepared more than 1,000,000 doses of yellow fever vaccine for the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, the U.S. Army and the U.S. Public Health Service.

Drury Lane Is Strangest Theatre In World To-day

The Theatre Royal, Drury Lane, is the strangest theatre in the world to-day. No play has been performed there since just before the war. The theatre is now the headquarters of ENSA, the organisation which has sent 53,000 shows to entertain the forces.

But the hustle and bustle and the telephones and temporary offices in every spare corner have not destroyed the unique atmosphere of "The Lane." In one room, called "Theatre Control," thirty columns of cards on the wall show the movement of shows for nine weeks ahead—revues in blue, plays in green, bands in yellow, and so on.

But this bare, yellow-distended room is Garrick's dressing room, and Edmund Keen's and Macgregor's and Irving's, and every leading male actor's at Drury Lane for the last 270 years.

Next door is "Ladies' dressing room." This is the Green Room, where the actors meet and talked with their friends, where bad-tempered Charles Macklin, the first man to play Shylock as a serious character, killed his brother actor, Hallam, in dispute about a wig—for which he was severely censured and suspended for three months.

Garrick's Mirror

On the wall is a big mirror in a dingy gilt frame, in which Garrick used to take a last look at himself before going on the stage.

In another little room now labelled "Publicity Office," and occupied by W. Macquenn Pope, whose family have been connected with Drury Lane since 1740, every leading lady from Sarah Siddons to Mary Clare has dressed.

The great auditorium is hair-curtained off to hide the effects of a bomb which fell a few months ago. A young girl, one of dozens who come for auditions in the hope of joining ENSA shows, was singing to empty stalls covered with dustsheets. On her right was the box in which every King of England since Charles II. has sat.

From this box George II. waved the Duke of Cumberland's despatches that the Young Pretender had been beaten at Culloden Moor.

Royal Room An Office

The royal room behind the box is now an office. From it are controlled the munition factory entertainments.

The box-office is the contracts department, and the famous Rotunda, where George III. dined his son, later George IV., in front of the assembled company, is a rehearsal room.

The long Regency bar is partitioned off into a long row of offices. "The Last Mile" they call it now.

The stalls bar, wrecked by the nosecone of the bomb, has been done up. Now it is the home of ENSA brandies. The staff bar is the air raid shelter.

The room where Sheridan wrote "The School for Scandal" is now, with its blitzed ceiling, ENSA's board room.

GERMANS TRY FOG SCREENS

Messages reaching New York from neutral sources in Berlin say that German armed manoeuvres recently involving extensive use of new types of smoke screens developed in the laboratories of the Reich Defence Council.

One form is said to be a grey sandy material, with particles of differing sizes stored in air-tight containers. It can be strewn from planes and develops a heavy screen on contact with the oxygen in the air.

The larger particles fall farther than the smaller. It is thus possible to control the depth of the shielding cloud by varying the sizes.

Coloured Smoke

Another type, these reports state, is in the form of pellets which may also be dropped from planes. They give off smoke when they come in contact with water. Experiments have also been carried out with coloured smoke more blinding than the usual grey variety.

FLORAL SHAVING MUGS ARE BACK

Nobody would have believed it possible, but the time has come to drag grandfather's shaving mug from among dust and cobwebs in the attic and whisk it down to the barber shop.

Barbers in London report a shaving boom because of a shortage of razor blades. Old-time initialised shaving mugs are appearing on shelves. Girls wielding electric razors have been recruited to help meet the rush.

"I've put out my barber's pole—the centuries-old badge of my trade," said one barber. "I'm back at the old business of shaving. Since the last war, I don't suppose I've done more than 20 shaves a day on the average. Now my assistant and myself do about 50 in a morning."

WHAT CAUSES WARS

Sir Robert B. Greig, speaking recently at Stirling Rotary Club, said that unless we succeeded in getting over the difficulties of geographical boundaries, we were bound to have another war in 20 or 25 years time.

So long as geographical boundaries existed, when each little or large nation desired to maintain its prestige, desired to make itself wealthy at the expense of its neighbour, and had the backing of science, we were bound to have continual anarchy.

"Science will run away from us altogether, and we shall destroy civilisation unless there is a controlling power, and the first controlling power should be that of the prevention of war, because without peace we cannot hope to make use of the enormous potential wealth which science offers us."

"Therefore, unless we have a Federal Union which has an overriding government over and above national sovereignties, I do not see how we can prevent war."

Federal Union was a bigger thing than a mere matter of Government machinery, and if adopted by peace-loving nations would give undoubted stimulus to the spiritual side of mankind, which would go a long way in hastening the development of civilisation on the right lines.

EXPORTS BANNED

U.S. Blow To Axis Powers

SPECIAL TO THE "TELEGRAPH"

WASHINGTON, May 28 (UP).—President Roosevelt today signed a bill restricting exports from the Philippines, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and the Canal Zone, thus closing the last link in the United States export control system.

The law is aimed, undisputed, to prevent the shipment of vital raw materials to Japan and Germany. It is believed to be a direct economic blow at Japan because it deprives her of large supplies of glycerine, hemp, iron ore, chromium and manganese which in the past she has been getting from the Philippines.

During the past few months, Japan and Russia have imported millions of pounds of coconut oil and hemp seeking an accumulation of reserves before the export control became effective. The President, however, issued a proclamation invoking the law immediately.

Conviction On Capital Charge Stands

Leave To Appeal Is Refused

An application for leave to appeal against his conviction for murder was brought by Ho Sung-hel, 22, before the Full Court of Appeal, comprising the Pui-sang Judge, Mr. Justice P. E. F. Cressall, and Mr. Justice E. H. Williams, in the Supreme Court this morning. Ho, a salesman in the Chung Wah Book Company, was found guilty by a jury of the murder of a fellow-worker, Woo Tong-chiu, at No. 3 Gilman's Bazaar, on December 5, last year.

Mr. T. F. Lo, instructed by Mr. J. M. Hall, appeared for Appellant, and Mr. J. Reynolds, Crown Counsel, appeared for the Crown.

Mr. Lo asked for the application to be adjourned for four weeks on the ground that he wished to apply for amendment of the application by the calling of new evidence which was not before the jury, the result of which, in his submission, might result in the upholding of the appeal and the discharge of the appellant. Counsel said that when Appellant was charged and when he gave evidence, he had maintained that at all material times on the night of December 4-5, he was in the company of his brother-in-law, who was passing through the Colony, at the Chinese Emporium Ballroom. The brother-in-law did not give evidence, but told him that if he wished to see him, he could find him at the Ballroom the following night. When Appellant was arrested, that opportunity was lost and he had no opportunity of producing that important witness.

Letter From Shanghai Appellant was convicted on March 5 this year, and himself gave evidence on appeal on March 10 on the ground that there was insufficient evidence to convict him. On March 13, Mr. Somerset Fitzroy and Mr. Hall, were assigned as Counsel and solicitor respectively for the appeal. A letter was written to Appellant's sister in Shanghai in an effort to trace the whereabouts of her husband. In the meantime, Mr. Fitzroy left the Colony, and nothing more was done until Counsel was appointed to take his place on April 24.

Mr. Lo said that letters had been sent to Appellant's sister and father in Shanghai, but up to the present no reply had been received, and he wished for an adjournment as he felt he could not discharge his responsibilities to the Appellant unless he was satisfied that every effort had been made to secure the witness.

Not New Evidence

Mr. Justice Cressall observed that the evidence which Mr. Lo proposed to call was not new evidence. It was in existence before the trial. Had any application been made by Appellant's legal advisers for an adjournment before the trial, he asked.

Mr. Lo, after consulting Mr. Hall, replied that Counsel for the Defence at the time had unfortunately failed to bring to the notice of the trial judge that Appellant had told him that the witness could not be located unless a letter was first sent to Appellant's sister in Shanghai.

Mr. Cressall remarked that that should have been done, and Mr. Lo agreed.

Application Refused

Refusing the application for an adjournment and for leave to amend, Mr. Justice Cressall said that the Court of Appeal was always loathe to grant leave of adjournment on the ground of calling of new evidence, unless it thought the case was a proper one for leave to be granted. Under the Statute, Counsel for the Defence had ample opportunity to file an application for adjournment. The present Court was of the decided opinion that the case in question was not a proper one in which an adjournment should be granted and allow new evidence to be put forward, and the application was therefore refused.

Mr. Lo then proceeded to argue on the ground that there was insufficient evidence to convict, and went over various phases of the evidence. He submitted that the prosecution had failed to discharge its onus of proof, and contended that the evidence was as consistent with innocence as with guilt.

Mr Justice Cressall

Dismissing the application, and addressing Appellant, Mr. Justice Cressall said: "Your Counsel has based his arguments on the ground that there was not sufficient evidence to convict you of this crime. You have the record through him asked for leave to appeal against your conviction. Your Counsel has stressed the point that the evidence was purely circumstantial—that no one actually saw you commit the crime. May we remind you that in many cases, circumstantial evidence is even better than direct evidence because circumstances cannot lie. We have read the record of the proceedings and the summing-up of the trial judge. In the result we have no hesitation in saying that there was ample evidence before the jury which, if they believed, they were justified in accepting and returning the verdict they did. As reference has also been made to the summing-up of the trial judge, we desire to say that the summing-up was a perfect model of fairness to the Accused. This Court says there is absolutely no merit in your application for leave to appeal, which is dismissed."

The trial was held before the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, at the February Criminal Sessions. Mr. J. Reynolds prosecuted, and Mr. H. Somerset Fitzroy, instructed by Mr. Hall, defended.

British Aid For French Colonies

LONDON, May 28 (British Wireless).—Replying to Parliamentary question, the Foreign Secretary recalled that in a letter to General de Gaulle on August 27 last relating to economic assistance for the Free French colonies, the Prime Minister gave an assurance that until such time as an independent constitutional authority had been established on Free French soil, Britain would do everything in her power to maintain the economic stability of overseas French territories provided that they stood by the alliance.

In the case of French territories which rallied to General de Gaulle in support of the Allied cause, subject to her own needs Britain would extend economic assistance on a scale similar to that she would supply, in comparable circumstances, to the colonies of the British Empire.

That undertaking, Mr. Eden said, was made public at the time and was broadcast to both France and the French colonies. "It still holds good," he added, "and any French colony which decides to resume the struggle on our side can be certain that we shall do our best to meet their economic requirements."

"A Bit Upset"

Man Attacks Woman With a Chopper

Pleading guilty to a charge of wounding, Yip Yun, 68, of No. 464 Nathan Road, was sentenced to six months imprisonment by Mr. H. C. Nienomara at Kowloon Magistracy this morning.

Det-Sgt R. McVey said that Defendant and his family lived with Complainant, Kuei Fui-wai, woman, who was relative, at No. 464 Nathan Road. Some time in January this year on account of some crackers exploding near him, Defendant became mentally disturbed. In March he was sent to the Mental Hospital but was discharged ten days later.

It was a habit of Defendant's to walk about all night and sleep in the day time.

Early on May 1, Defendant, for no apparent reason, attacked Complainant with a chopper, and the woman suffered cuts on the neck, eye and hand. Defendant was over-come, and the woman sent to hospital.

Sgt McVey added that Defendant had been examined by three doctors subsequently, but they could not say that he was suffering from any mental disorder.

Defendant said that he was not insane, but was only a bit upset.

LATE NEWS

which was laid this afternoon. The committee quite rightly considered the problem before it in the same light as that in which the war Revenue Ordinance was devised, that is to say, the provision of sufficient revenue to cover our war expenditure, including certain gifts to His Majesty's Government. To this end they have produced a series of very valuable recommendations which will strengthen and render more watertight the existing ordinance, and in order to meet the heavier war expenditure of the Colony they have recommended that the basic rates of the various forms of taxation should be raised from the present basic rates to 6% and 12% respectively. In order that this increase should not weigh too heavily on the least well-to-do of those liable to pay Salary Tax they have recommended reasonable increases in the allowances for wife and children.

Greater Increases

I have, however, discussed the report with the Executive Council in the light of what I have said already about the general intensification of our war effort, and I have recommended to them, and have obtained their concurrence with, the general increase of the present basic rates to 7% and 14%. So far as the salary tax is concerned I am giving close personal attention to the question whether this further increase will result in a lower-salaried residents who have to maintain a family elsewhere than in Hongkong, having regard to the very considerable increases that are being made in the allowances for wives and children. That must be avoided. The Attorney General will in due course inform you in detail of these proposed amendments.

Before leaving this subject I offer to the organizers of the "South China Morning Post" Bomber Fund my very hearty congratulations on having passed the two million dollar mark. I feel sure that the Council will fully join their congratulations to mine. I trust that what I have said this afternoon about the Colony's war-effort will not be taken as derogatory to their energetic patriotism or to the public spirited munificence of the many individuals and firms who have contributed to that fine total. My remarks have, of course, a very different bearing.

I confidently hope that what I have said regarding the closer approximation of Hongkong's war effort to that being made in the home country will have your full approval.

Evacuation & Govt Officials' Wives

Before the Legislative Council this afternoon, the Hon. Mr. J. J. Paterson asked the following questions:

Will the Government give statistics of the incidence of evacuation of the wives of senior Government Officers, namely—

- wives not in the Colony when the evacuation was ordered;
- wives departed since that date;
- wives recommended for exemption by the Evacuation Advisory Committee;
- cases still pending when further compulsory evacuation was suspended?

In how many cases was the recommendation of the Evacuation Advisory Committee over-ruled by higher authority?

The following answers were given: Taking "Senior Officers" as including the following 22 officers, namely: the two judges, all official members of both Councils, all 1st class cadets and all the heads of the principal departments of Government, but excluding three unmarried officers in those categories, the replies to the questions are:

- (a) five; (b) nine; (c) six; (d) two.
- Nil. No exemptions granted except in the six cases mentioned in (c) above.

We came to the conclusion that in view of the rise in the cost of living some relief should be afforded to those payers of Salaries Tax who have wives and children. With this object we have recommended that the scale of allowances for a wife and children should be revised as follows:

	Now	Recommended
Wife	$2,000	$2,000
1st child	$1,000	$1,000
2nd child	$1,000	$1,000
3rd child	$1,000	$500
4th child	$1,000	$500

We consider, however, that no allowance should be made for children in excess of four, or for dependent relatives. At the same time we have recommended that the lower rate of Salaries Tax be brought into line with the lower rates of the other War Taxes.

Likely Effect
The above amendments, and many others on matters of detail which we have incorporated in the draft Bill but which we do not propose to attempt to explain in this Report since they are explained in the Table of Correspondence attached to the Bill, would in our opinion result in a more equitable distribution of the burden of war taxation. It is estimated that they would result in the following increases or decreases in revenue:

	Increase	Decrease
Salaries Tax	$3,000,000	$800,000
Business Profits Tax	$3,000,000	$300,000
Interest Tax	$1,000,000	—
Net Increase	$6,000,000	$1,100,000

Taking the estimate of yield for 1941-42 at $9,000,000 if the present War Revenue Ordinance were to continue unchanged, the adoption of

New War Taxation Rates For Hongkong

was framed or which were likely to be taken in the near future, the Colony's war expenditure during the present financial year would amount to considerably more than the sum of $12,300,000 shown in the printed Estimates. This additional war expenditure was likely to be of the order of $3,500,000. Allowing for an estimated yield in 1941-42 of $9,000,000 from War Taxation on its present basis and a net surplus of $3,000,000 which could be carried forward into 1941-42, it was desirable to raise additional revenue to the extent of some five million dollars by modifying the existing War Taxes or by imposing new ones or by a combination of both methods.

(b) From the relatively small number of firms paying Business Profits Tax and the fact that up to March 31, 1941, the net amount charged in respect of Business Profits Tax was only $1,070,000 as compared with $4,531,000 in respect of Corporation Profits Tax it was evident that a large section of the business community was not bearing its fair share of the Colony's war-time burden.

(c) One year's experience of the working of the present Ordinance had disclosed inequities which it was desirable to smooth out and loopholes for evasion which it was desirable to close.

No Income Tax
To reduce the possibilities of evasion and ensure equal incidence we first considered the advisability of recommending the complete repeal of the present War Revenue Ordinance and the substitution therefore of a full Income Tax. We decided, however, by a majority, that in view of the opposition which the suggestion to introduce Income Tax had called forth in 1939 we would re-affirm in this regard the recommendation of the original War Revenue Committee. We decided to appoint a Sub-Committee composed of Mr. A. G. Clarke (Chairman), Mr. E. M. Bryden, Mr. L. Kadoorie, and Mr. C. van Langenberg to examine in detail the present War Revenue Ordinance with a view to smoothing out its inequities and increasing the yield from War Taxation. This Sub-Committee held twelve meetings and presented a most comprehensive report which was gratefully adopted by the full Committee and which formed the basis for our conclusions and recommendations. Our conclusions have been incorporated in a draft War Revenue Bill which is attached to this Report as an Appendix.

New Tax Proposed
We felt that the charge of inequitable incidence could not be avoided unless we devised some means of taxing one broad source of unearned income at present untaxed—namely, interest on loans and mortgages. We have therefore devised a scheme for the taxation of certain classes of interest which we have included in the draft Bill under a new Chapter entitled "Interest Tax". This tax is practically limited to interest on mortgages, bills of sale, debentures and loans made to corporations or firms who are liable to Profits Tax; we found that the yield to be expected from taxing interest on bank fixed deposits, savings bank accounts, etc., would be too small in relation to the cost and trouble of administration to the banks concerned.

With a view to increasing the yield from Business Profits Tax we considered that the exemption limit should be reduced from $10,000 to $5,000 and that the limit for the lower rate of taxation should be reduced from $100,000 to $50,000. The reduction of the exemption limit would greatly increase the number of firms paying this tax and would minimize the incentive to the splitting of businesses. We considered the question of whether a loss by a business or corporation in one year should be set off against profits in succeeding years but in view of the temporary nature of the Ordinance and the urgent need for revenue we have not recommended such a provision. For similar reasons, we considered any provision for depreciation in respect of the expiry of leases to be undesirable. We have not recommended that payments such as charitable contributions and donations to war funds or expenses incurred in connexion with Air Raid Precaution measures should be exempted from Profit Tax.

Increased Allowances
We came to the conclusion that in view of the rise in the cost of living some relief should be afforded to those payers of Salaries Tax who have wives and children. With this object we have recommended that the scale of allowances for a wife and children should be revised as follows:

	Now	Recommended
Wife	$2,000	$2,000
1st child	$1,000	$1,000
2nd child	$1,000	$1,000
3rd child	$1,000	$500
4th child	$1,000	$500

We consider, however, that no allowance should be made for children in excess of four, or for dependent relatives. At the same time we have recommended that the lower rate of Salaries Tax be brought into line with the lower rates of the other War Taxes.

Likely Effect
The above amendments, and many others on matters of detail which we have incorporated in the draft Bill but which we do not propose to attempt to explain in this Report since they are explained in the Table of Correspondence attached to the Bill, would in our opinion result in a more equitable distribution of the burden of war taxation. It is estimated that they would result in the following increases or decreases in revenue:

	Increase	Decrease
Salaries Tax	$3,000,000	$800,000
Business Profits Tax	$3,000,000	$300,000
Interest Tax	$1,000,000	—
Net Increase	$6,000,000	$1,100,000

Taking the estimate of yield for 1941-42 at $9,000,000 if the present War Revenue Ordinance were to continue unchanged, the adoption of

LARDER OF BRITAIN

Came Through Winter, Secure In Supplies

LONDON, May 28 (British Wireless).—Confidence in Britain's food position was affirmed by the Minister of Food, Lord Woolton, in the House of Lords today when he said: "We have suffered but we emerge from the winter in a position as strongly secured in our food supplies as 12 months ago."

Stating that one object of rationing was to give every individual the prescriptive right to obtain an equal share of a rationed commodity, Lord Woolton announced that he was about to start a new system of experimental rationing. He would presently ration eggs and, whether from force of necessity or not, he believed that he would ration milk but he hoped never to have to ration bread.

No Repeal Of Neutrality Legislation

WASHINGTON, May 28 (Reuter).—President Roosevelt has no intention of asking for a repeal of the Neutrality Act and is not considering its revision. The President made this clear at a special press conference today to clarify certain outstanding questions following his "fireside chat".

The President added that he was not at present considering any executive orders to implement his proclamation of a state of "unlimited national emergency."

UNITED STATES MEMORIAL DAY

To Be Observed in H.K.
In commemoration of Memorial Day, a party of American ladies, an American naval party, and Mr. Robert C. Coudray, American Vice-Consul representing the Consulate General, will assemble at the Colonial Cemetery at 10.30 to-morrow morning for the purpose of laying wreaths on the graves of American citizens buried at Happy Valley.

After the ceremony at the Colonial Cemetery, the party will proceed to the Catholic Cemetery and be received by Father Grampa. The party will then repair to the Hebrew Cemetery where they will be received by Mr. Lawrence Kadoorie, President of the Hebrew Community.

A United States naval officer, representing the United States Navy and accompanied by American naval ratings from the U.S.S. Asheville, will be in attendance.

Originally the day was a memorial to those who died in the Civil War, but now it has become a general day of remembrance for all war dead and is observed in many states of the Union, and possessions, as a national holiday.

All American citizens who care to participate are requested to attend.

The amendments mentioned above would bring in a further $1,570,000 raising the total to $10,870,000. Since data collected by the War Taxation Department indicate that profits generally have risen—it is not unreasonable to put the total yield at the round figure of $11,000,000. This sum, however, falls considerably short of the amount which the Financial Secretary had advised us was necessary, and we had next to consider how additional revenue could best be found.

Higher Basic Rates
We came to the conclusion that the extra amount required could best be obtained not by the imposition of new miscellaneous taxes, the yield from each of which would be comparatively small, but by raising the basic rates of all five war taxes. On a basis of 5% and 10% the estimated yield was $11,000,000 so that raising the basic rates to 6% and 12% would produce an additional one-fifth or two-fifths or $4,000,000.

	At 5% and 10%	At 6% and 12%
Salaries Tax	$11,000,000	$11,000,000
Property Tax	$1,200,000	$1,400,000
Corporations Profits Tax	$2,300,000	$2,700,000
Tax	$7,000,000	$8,600,000
Business Profits Tax	$1,000,000	$1,200,000
Interest Tax	$1,000,000	$1,200,000
	$11,000,000	$15,200,000

The first alternative (6% and 12%) would produce rather less and the second alternative (7% and 14%) rather more than the additional sum which the Financial Secretary had advised it was necessary to find; taking into consideration the healthy state of the Colony's surplus balances and the estimated annual yield of at least half a million dollars from the recently imposed duty on Toilet Preparations we finally decided to recommend that the basic rates be raised to 6% and 12%.

The estimated yield at the old and new basic rates can be set out in detail as follows:

	At 5% and 10%	At 6% and 12%
Salaries Tax	$11,000,000	$11,000,000
Property Tax	$1,200,000	$1,400,000
Corporations Profits Tax	$2,300,000	$2,700,000
Tax	$7,000,000	$8,600,000
Business Profits Tax	$1,000,000	$1,200,000
Interest Tax	$1,000,000	$1,200,000
	$11,000,000	$15,200,000

Conclusion
We recommend that the War Revenue Ordinance, 1940, be repealed and replaced by an enactment of the lines of the draft Bill appended hereto; the draft Bill includes a provision that all matters pertaining to the year of assessment which ended on March 31, 1941, shall be dealt with under the present Ordinance.

In conclusion we should like to express our indebtedness to Mr. K. M. A. Barnett, the Secretary to the Committee, who has kept full minutes of our meetings and who prepared the first draft of our Report.
